French Approve U. S. Disarmament Move

DEPUTES CHEER AS BRIAND BACKS PLAN FOR WORLD PARLEY

(United Press Leased Wire)

President Harding's proposed disarmament conference was fifty per cent assured today.

Of the four nations invited to participate—Great Britain and France had accepted the invitation.

Japan, through the pressure of world-wide public opinion, was believed to be sure to accede, regardless of her individual feeling.

SELL $160,000 ORANGE UNION SCHOOL BONDS

The $160,000 bonds of the Orange union high school district today were sold to the California Company of Los Angeles, that firm having offered the highest premium, $547. A certified check for $4,800 accompanied the bid.

Other bidders were the Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, which offered a premium of $320 and enclosed a certified check for $4,900; the First National bank, Santa Ana, which offered a premium of $412 and a certified check for $4,800; and the Citizens' National bank, Los Angeles, which offered a premium of $175, with a certified check for $4,800.

The high school bonds will carry interest at 6 per cent per annum. Bonds drawing 5, 5½ and 6 per cent interest have not been selling as readily in the past year as they formerly did and the supervisors had done considerable speculation as to the bidding. They appeared to be satisfied with the bids received.

Bonds in the sum of $25,000 voted by the Yuma school district and the $20,000 issue of the Day City school district, both of which issues bear 6 per cent interest, have not attracted any bidders as yet.

The supervisors have been expecting bids on the Bay City issue for the past six weeks.

SAILORS VOTE DOWN SHIP OWNERS' PLAN TO SETTLE STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 — By a vote of 1010 against and 40 favoring, the members of the Sailors' union of the Pacific refused to accept the terms of the Association of ship owners holding a referendum today to decide whether they will go back to work under similar conditions.

The owners' terms proposed a 12 per cent reduction in wages and changed conditions of work. The members of the marine firemen, oilers and water tenders unions were holding a referendum today to decide whether they will go back to work under similar conditions.

FEDERAL FIGURES BARE U. S. WAR BILL AS 75 CENTS OF EACH DOLLAR IN TAXES

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, July 12 — War, past, present and future, cost the United States nearly $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ended July 1, treasury department records showed today. Seventy-five cents out of each dollar of the taxpayers' money went into bills arising from war or preparation for war.

Other nations are spending as great or a greater percentage of their income for war. This explains why the people are bringing pressure on their governments to accept President Harding's invitation for a disarmament conference.

Huge Sum for War
Tax collections for the year totaled $5,115,928,000, while disbursement for war purposes amounted to $3,836,938,000 without taking into account millions paid out in pensions by the pension bureau, by the war risk bureau and a score of other expenditures by departments which are not generally classified as war conducting branches of the government.

The percentage spent for war in the previous fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, was 92 cents out of each dollar collected in taxes. The actual amount was $5,934,235,000, but in that year the government received a total of $6,404,344,000. In the fiscal year just ended, therefore, war cost the peace government of the United States just $2,097,289,000 less

College Courses In Real Estate Aim Of Convention Speaker

CHICAGO, July 12 — "Doctor of real estate" may be added to the degrees conferred by the colleges of the country.

Fred E. Taylor, Portland, Ore., president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, urged establishment of courses in real estate in educational institutions of the country.

Taylor said membership in the association had been doubled during the last year.

John S. Hord of Washington spoke before the convention on the necessity of a sales tax.

JOHN S. CHAMBERS LEAVES CONTROLLER POST TO JOIN BANK

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—John S. Chambers resigned today from the office of state controller of California.

In a letter to Governor William D. Stephens he declared his resignation was due to the fact that he has assumed the vice presidency and management of the Sacramento branch of the Bank of Italy, recently established here. Chambers' resignation will go into effect July 16. Chambers has just completed the signing of approximately 5000 state highway bonds, he said in his letter.

"30" BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, July 12 — President Harding late today signed the navy bill. The measure carried appropriations of $409,000,000. The measure contains the Borah resolution calling for a conference on disarmament between the United States Great Britain and Japan.

Final testimony in the inquest in connection with the death of Mrs. Emma Wright, who was struck and fatally injured recently by an automobile driven by H. W. Clarkson, of San Diego, was completed at 2:10 p. m. today. In addition to B. P. O. E. at this afternoon's session of the grand lodge reunion, James F. Duffy, Providence, R. I., was elected grand esteemed leading knight.

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 12.—Breaking down under a severe grill which lasted just fifteen minutes short of twelve hours, Horace Box, fireman, confessed today to the abduction and attack on Miss Lucille Umphries, according to a statement by Chief of Police Ben W. McLendon. The grilling started at 7 p. m., yesterday, and was marked by a fist combat between Deputy Sheriff Robert Cuts and Box. Box is alleged to have struck the deputy first. Other police officers present quieted the disturbance.

PRESIDENT URGES DELAY FOR BONUS

HALF TON PUMP BURGLARS' LOOT

DARING RAID IS MADE AT HANSEN

Urges Senators To Put Aside Soldier Bonus Legislation

PRESIDENT HARDING.

Ranch Structure Is Looted Third Time; Authorities Seek Thieves

Heavyweight burglars, who, late yesterday, succeeded in removing a 1000-pound centrifugal pump and a 10-inch suction pipe, 34 feet in length, together with several elbows and pipe fittings from the pump house on the ranch of Alfred H. Hansen, a quarter of a mile west of Hansen station, today were being sought by the authorities of Orange county.

This marks the third time that the pump house has been looted, according to Hansen.

The first robbery occurred about six weeks ago, but the loot taken at that time was of little value.

The place was robbed again June 13, when the thieves secured a 5-gallon tank of oil, a hand pump, two 100-gallon corrugated iron gas tanks and a 50-gallon tank.

Deputy Sheriff J. N. Gunnet investigated the second robbery.

He said that the building in which the pump and other goods were stored is a flimsy affair and that the lock on the door to the place could easily be turned with a skeleton key.

Only Gas Engine Left.
In making his report to the sheriff's office this morning Hansen said that the only thing left in the pump house is a gas engine and he

HARRY HAWKER, NOTED FLYER, CRASH VICTIM

LONDON, July 12 — Harry G. Hawker, the British aviator who fell in mid-ocean in an effort to fly across the Atlantic in 1919, was killed today when his plane crashed as he was alighting at Hendon. In his trans-Atlantic attempt Hawker was picked up by a steamer after his fall and was landed after he had been given up for dead.

The Press and the People

Their Mutual Relations and Obligations

Under this heading the Register intends to have some heart-to-heart talks with its readers in an endeavor to bring about a better understanding of each other's point of view.

Some one, himself a newspaper man, no doubt, has spoken of journalism as a profession of public service. It is hardly to be suspected that the public, those who read the daily and weekly journals of the present time, will question this dignified assumption. Journalism is a public service. If it is not this it is neither journalism nor service. So it has come to be commonly understood in what is regarded as the modern school of journalism, that the day has long since passed when a newspaper, if successful and useful can be the organ of an individual, or of a party or clique. It requires no great effort to recall the time, in the history of the United States, for instance, when many of the great newspapers bore the brand of the "house organ."

They were then, even more than now, either the personal weapons of their owners or editors, or the weapons of offense and defense of the political party by which they were subsidized or supported. Perhaps some such impulse was required for the founding and the nurturing, a half century ago, of some of the journals which have become great and powerful despite the handicap under which they were launched. Personal ambition and partisan necessity accomplished what then might have been regarded impossible as an altruistic undertaking, or as a business or professional venture. The development, growth and progress of the American newspaper during the last fifty years have kept pace with developments in other undertakings, industrial, educational and social. Perhaps it may be said truthfully that the newspapers have often led in progressive development. Certainly they have seldom been laggard.

It is interesting, in comparing the representative American newspapers of today with those of a few decades ago, to trace the methods and causes of development and growth. It is equally interesting to speculate as to the contemporaneous influences which have been reflected in the higher standards of journalism and in bettered social, educational and industrial conditions throughout the land. The moot question is, Which was cause and which was effect? Have higher journalistic standards been reflected in society, or have improved social conditions been reflected in the press? — Christian Science Monitor.

HARDING DEMANDS EARLY ACTION ON TAX, TARIFF LAWS

(United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A small bonus to ex-service men at this time would be a poor palliative to the millions who are faced with unemployment, President Harding declared today in asking the senate to delay action on the soldier bonus measure.

It is unthinkable that the administration could reduce burdens if the treasury is committed to an obligation of from three to five billions, he also said.

Having declared he would be ashamed of the republic if it failed in its duty to those who fought to save it, but he warned that immediate action on "this menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations to those we must not fail to aid."

Promises More Help
He recited the huge expenditures already made through the war risk bureau for disabled soldiers and promised more at a more auspicious time.

Three things are essential for return to normalcy, the president said:

- 1.—Lower taxes.
  - 2.—Refunding of the war debt.
  - 3.—Adjustment of foreign loans.
- "The overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us," President Harding warned. "Merest prudence calls out in warning."

He emphasized that congress should proceed on the tariff and tax bills for which the special session was called.

Confesses "Disappointment"
President Harding confessed "disappointment" that "so little" had been done toward reducing war-time taxes.

He read his message to the senate, leaving the White House for the capitol shortly after the cabinet meeting.

Harding read his message deliberately, finishing it at 2:20 to a burst of applause.

Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, chairman of the finance committee, moved recommendation of the bonus bill to that committee within 15 minutes of the conclusion of Harding's address.

There has come to my attention the pending unfinished business before the senate, and it is an imperative duty to convey to you the probable effect of the passage at this time of the proposed act providing for adjusted compensation to our service men in the World war. If this measure could be made effective at the present time without disaster to the nation's finance and without hindrance to imperative adjustment of our taxes, it would present an entirely different question than that which is before you.

Favors Generous Policy
In a personal as well as public manner, which ought to be a plight of good faith, I have commended the policy of generous treatment of the nation's defenders, not as a payment of any debt which is owed, but as a mark of the nation's gratitude.

Every obligation is to the disabled and dependent; in such reference as has been made to general compensation there has been a reservation as to the earliest consistent time for such action if it is taken.

Even without such reservation, however, a modified view would be wholly justified at the present moment, because the enactment of the compensation bill in the midst of the struggle for readjustment and restoration would hinder every ef-

HERE ARE HIGH LIGHTS OF HARDING'S BONUS MESSAGE

"Every obligation is to the disabled and dependent."
"Enactment of the compensation bill in the midst of the struggle for re-adjustment and restoration would hinder every effort and greatly imperil the financial stability of our country."
"It is unthinkable to reduce our tax burdens while committing our treasury to an additional obligation which ranges from three to five billion dollars."
"We never have neglected and never will neglect the dependent soldier."
"I pledge you a most conscientious drive to reduce government cost by many millions."
"It would be discouraging to those who are bending energies to save millions to have congress add billions to our burden at the very beginning."
"Even were there not threatened paralysis of our treasury would it not be better to await the settlement of our foreign loans?"
"The defenders of the Republic would be the last of our citizenship to wish its stability menaced by an individual pittance of peace."

LONDON THROG GIVEN CONTRACT FOR BUILDING IRISH BRIDGE

LONDON, July 12.—The Irish peace delegation, headed by Eamonn De Valera, arrived here this evening.

A great crowd gathered at the station and gave the Irish leader a tremendous ovation.

The conferences with representatives of the British government will open here Thursday.

The delegation consisted of Eamonn De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic"; Arthur Griffith, head of the Sinn Fein; Austin Stack and Richard Barton. The latter are members of the Dail Eireann.

FEAR RELIGIOUS WAR AS IRISH PEACE NEAR

LONDON, July 12.—Violence continued in the north of Ireland early today, despite the truce which became effective yesterday.

Sniping was under way in Belfast when bells tolled the beginning of the armistice, following two days of serious rioting, and after nightfall the disorders increased.

With the dawn of "Orangeism's day"—the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne—the sniping was augmented by several instances of mob violence. It was feared that religious antagonism would be responsible for disorders in other parts of Ireland.

MOTHER OF DE VALERA IN U. S.; BACK IRISH CAUSE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 12.—Eamonn De Valera will not be so "imprudent" as to accept anything but "absolute freedom" for Ireland in the Irish peace negotiations, according to the belief expressed today by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Wheelwright.

The board of supervisors today awarded to Frank Hudson the contract for the construction of one of the most important bridges designed for Orange county, the span over the Santa Ana river at a point near Olive. Hudson's bid was $44,009.80. It was accompanied by a certified check for $2,177.50.

Other bids came from the following firms:

Mercereau Bridge and Construction company, $52,318; W. M. Leadbetter, $44,183; West Coast Construction company, $45,511.02; C. McNeill, $51,835; E. T. Wheeler company, $48,512.50, and S. M. Kern, $48,512.50.

The bid for the construction of the Ball road went to Contractor Oglesby, who bid $7,390.80. Other bids were submitted by Wells and Brasler, $9,252, and B. R. Ford, $8,217.60.

RUTH SMASHES OUT TWO HOMERS; KELLEY GIANTS, GETS 13TH

ST. LOUIS, July 12 — Babe Ruth made two home runs in the Yankee-St. Louis game here this afternoon bringing his season's total to 34. The first came in the third inning with two men on. The second followed in the seventh with none on. Davis was the double victim.

NEW YORK, July 12 — George Kelly made his thirteenth home run of the season in the fourth inning of the Giant-St. Louis game here this afternoon. Haines was pitching. One man was on base.

ECHO OF BITTER COURT BATTLE IS HEARD

An echo of a case bitterly fought in the superior court of Orange county more than three years ago was sounded in San Francisco yesterday when the supreme court ordered stricken from the files, on the ground that it was "flippant and disrespectful in tone and insulting," a petition by two state inheritance tax attorneys, acting for Controller Chambers, for a rehearing in the Elizabeth Lamb inheritance tax case.

James L. Atteridge of Sacramento and John W. Carrigan were the attorneys who presented the petition. This petition asserted that the court had "thrown boquets" at its own decision and had decided the case contrary to a universally established principle of inheritance tax law.

The decision, handed down recently, held that in case of a transfer of property before death of the owner, the tax should be computed on the value at the time of transfer instead of at his death.

Local Court Reversed

It reversed the Orange county court's ruling in regard to the $200,000 property of William D. Lamb, who had transferred it to his wife, Elizabeth, two years before his death in 1911.

R. Y. Williams, now superior judge of Orange county, and A. W. Rutan appeared as attorneys for Mrs. Lamb when the tax fight was waged in the local court. Superior Judge W. H. Thomas decided against the contentions of Williams and Rutan. They appealed the case to the first district court of appeal and that court sustained the decision of Judge Thomas.

Williams and Rutan then appealed the case to the supreme court and that body reversed the decision of the two lower courts. In other words it held, as contended by Williams, that in case of a transfer of property before death of the owner, the tax should be computed on the value at the time of transfer instead of at the time of the death of the owner.

Appeal Taken

The appeal to the supreme court was taken from an order fixing the amount of inheritance tax to be paid to the state by Elizabeth Lamb. At the hearing in the court here it was stipulated that William D. Lamb executed and delivered to his wife a deed conveying to the latter full title to certain community property, complete dominion and control of the

$60,000 VALENCIA POOL CHECKS MAILED

The Stewart Fruit company of Anaheim today was mailing checks to ninety growers as payment in full on the first Valencia pool, which ended several weeks ago.

The pool will aggregate between $60,000 and $70,000, it was stated. The pool will net the growers slightly more than $2 a box for all grades and sizes.

This is equivalent to $2.85 a 100 pounds.

property passing from the husband to the wife at the time of the delivery of the deed. The deed was executed in contemplation of death. It was recorded in 1910 and the husband died in 1911. In February, 1909, the full market value of the property described in the deed was $194,775, but in the interval between the delivery of the deed and the death of William D. Lamb, in 1911, the value enhanced to $212,775, an increase of $18,000. The trial court decreed that the value of the property at the date of the decedent's death was the valuation to be placed on the property.

Vaudeville's Greatest Novelty at the Yost Tonight

Camille is the name she bears on the stage, for Camille's birds have become widely known in America since this young trainer came from Australia. Cockatoos from her own native island with birds of gay plumage from other far off lands, are featured at Yost's Theatre Tonight and Tomorrow with other special vaudeville attractions.

Santa Ana tonight will have the opportunity of seeing what is declared to be the greatest novelty act in vaudeville when Mme. Camille will bring her world-famous flock of Australian cockatoos—consisting of thirty of the best educated birds in captivity, to the Yost theatre.

It is claimed by animal trainers throughout the world that a bird is the hardest creature to tame and teach tricks. Mme. Camille for that reason has received recognition in this country and abroad as being the greatest of all trainers.

This act headlines the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show at the Yost theatre tonight and Wednesday night. It comes here direct from the Pantages and Keith vaudeville circuits and carries special scenery and stage settings. It is probably the most spectacular act ever to appear in this vicinity.

Contrary to the universal conception of all bird acts—this act does not consist of three or four feathered beauties flying about in order to make a pretty picture on the stage. Mme. Camille's birds present a complete vaudeville show of their own.

Their show is in eight acts, and includes a Roman chariot race, horizontal bar act, jumping the hurdles, balancing on the revolving globe, a sulky race, a skirt dance, a tango dance, and the cockatoo fire brigade going to a fire. This last is most thrilling and shows the brigade salvaging the furniture and saving the occupants.

This is but one of the featured attractions of the road show program tonight and tomorrow night at the Yost. Leo Don Fillier, former Orpheum circuit favorite, known as the "musical clown" and one of the greatest violinists in the country is another featured act on the program. Ann Vivian & Co., offering "Western Days" a Pantages feature attraction and the Northern Comedy Four, singers and comedians, conclude this exceptional vaudeville offering.

Alice Brady in her latest feature film "Out of the Chorus" is the photoplay included on the same program. But one vaudeville show is presented at night and because of the unprecedented demand for tickets for this special summer show, Manager Yost advises his patrons to come early.

BALLARD TELLS SOUTHWEST'S POWER NEED

"Increase in public wealth and population by the great water power development along the Colorado river," said R. H. Ballard, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company in addressing the Santa Ana Rotary club today, "will be so great as to be almost unbelievable, but the addition to public wealth which it will create, may be roughly estimated as equal to the total public wealth of the entire state of California at the present time.

"Power means, in California, the development of the water resources of the state and is one of the three essentials in the creation of public wealth," continued Ballard. "In California the absence of coal deposits and the mounting prices of fuel oil have directed the attention of the people to the necessity for the development of water power. This should be everybody's concern, since the development at once conserves our natural resources, makes possible great agricultural and industrial growth, and rings the bell on all the familiar axioms spelling 'prosperity'."

With labor as an example, Ballard contrasted electric generating plants with those using coal for fuel, and said:

"The necessary labor expended in mining the coal and transporting it from the mines to the power houses, the ratio of labor employees per unit of electrical output is one man in water power to twenty-one men in coal burning steam generation."

Ballard reasoned that every kilowatt of hydro-electric energy within the state of California should be immediately developed, and that the waters of the Colorado river should be speedily harnessed and put to work serving the purposes of the people of California and the states in the Colorado river basin.

"A change in fuel supply for the ships of navies and merchant marines of the world from coal to oil burning was brought about by the World War, because of the greater efficiency of the use of oil on shipboard," said the Edison man. "This definitely leads to the conclusion that much of our oil supply should be conserved for maritime uses."

"With the change from coal to oil burning on shipboard, what happened? England immediately set out to control the oil supply of the world, as she had the coal, and largely with money borrowed from this country is reported to have succeeded in this endeavor to the extent of being now in control of between 80 and 90 per cent of the oil supply, outside of the United States.

"In California the total electric power developments total now about a million horse power and they have cost, with transmission and distribution, slightly more than $400,000,000. This is the basic industry which supports the 3,500,000 people resident in California. To meet the demands of a purely natural growth, the existing power producers of the state have definite programs for the development of an additional 2,000,000 horse power during the next ten to fifteen years at a cost which may reach $700,000,000.

Awaits Development
"Because of the insistent demands for large quantities of power in adjoining states in our great Southwest, for agricultural, industrial, mining and transportation development, including the almost certainty of electrification of portions of the steam railroads, it is now proposed to add to the water power resources of the section the harnessing of the great Colorado river, where 4,350,000 horse power awaits development, dependent only upon legal permits, expanded financial structure and engineering skill. No earnest endeavor has heretofore been made in connection with this development, because it was too large for the market and, in spite of the great menace to agricultural districts, such as the Imperial valley, by reason of torrential floods at high water periods, the stream has remained practically untouched. Now the market is here and the development, it is now estimated, will control the flow of the river to an average of 18,000 cubic feet per second. Contrast it with the Los Angeles aqueduct, constructed for a flow of 400 second feet, and we find that the Colorado river flow will be equal to 4½ times the capacity of the Los Angeles aqueduct."

W. L. Deimling, district manager of the Edison company, was chairman for today's meeting.

A number of Long Beach Rotarians were present today and are meeting a committee of local Rotarians making arrangements for a picnic of the clubs of the two cities.

Next week's Rotary meeting will be at Balboa. A launch has been chartered for the Rotarians and their families for next Tuesday evening.

HARDING URGES TARIFF, TAX REFORMS

fert and greatly imperil the stability of our country. More, this menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations to those we must not fail to aid.

Reminds Senate of Duty
I am advising the senate directly because the problem is immediately yours, as your unfinished business, but the executive branch of the government owes it to both houses of congress and to the country frankly to state the difficulties we daily are called upon to meet, and the added peril this measure would bring.

Our land has its share of the financial chaos and the industrial depression of the world. We little heeded the growth of indebtedness or the limits of expenditure during the war because we could not stop to count the cost. Our one thought then was winning of the war and the survival of the nation. We borrowed and loaned—individuals to the nation and the government to other governments and to those who served the nation, with little thought of settlement.

It was relatively easy then, because national life was at stake. In the sober aftermath we face the order of reason rather than act amid the passions of war, and our own land and the world are facing problems never solved before. There can be no solution unless we face the grim truths and seek to solve them in resolute devotion to duty.

Urges Tax Reduction
After a survey of more than four months, contemplating conditions which would stagger all of us were it not for our abiding faith in America, I am fully persuaded that three things are essential to the very beginning of the restored order of government.

These are the revision, including reduction of our internal taxation, the refunding of our war debt and the adjustment of our foreign loans. It is vitally necessary to settle these problems before adding to our treasury any such burden as is contemplated in the pending bill.

It is unthinkable to expect a business revival and the resumption of the normal ways of peace while maintaining the excessive taxes of war. It is quite unthinkable to reduce our tax burdens while committing our treasury to an additional obligation which ranges from three to five billions of dollars. The precise figures no one can give.

If it is conceivably true that only two hundred millions a year will be drawn from the treasury in the few years immediately before us, the bestowal is too inconsequential to be of real value to the nation's defenders; and, if the exercise of the option should fail for cash running into billions, the depression in finance and industry would be so marked that vastly more harm than good would attend.

Our government must undertake no obligation which it does not intend to meet. No government flat will pay our bills. The exchanges of the world testify today to that erroneous theory. We may rely on the sacrifices of patriotism in war, but today we face markets and the effects of supply and demand and the inexorable laws of credit in time of peace.

At the very moment we are obliged to pay 5½ for government short time loans to care for our floating indebtedness, a rate on government borrowing, in spite of tax exemption, which ought to prevail in private transactions for the normal interest charges in financing our industry and commerce.

Facing Big Obligations
Definite obligations amounting to seven and a half billions in war savings certificates, Victory bonds and certificates covering floating indebtedness are to mature in the two years immediately following and the overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us.

Merest prudence calls out in warning. Our greatest necessity is a return to normal ways of peace activities. A most offering to the millions of service men is a poor palliative to more millions who may be out of employment. Stabilized finance and well established confidence are both essential to restore industry and commerce.

The slump which is now upon us is an inevitable part of war's aftermath. It has followed in the wake of war since the world began. There was the unavoidable readjustment, the inevitable charge-off, the unfeeling attendance of losses in the wake of high prices, the inexorable deflation which inflation has preceded. It has been wholly proper to seek to apply government relief to minimize the hardships and the government has aided wherever possible and is aiding now but all the special acts ever dreamed of, all the particular favors ever conceived will not avoid all the distresses nor ward off all the losses.

Sure Way to Normalcy
The proper mental state of our people will commit us resolutely and confidently to our tasks, and definite assurances as to taxation and expenditure will contribute to that helpful mental order. The only sure way to normalcy is over the paths nature has marked through-out all human experience.

With the approval of congress the executive branch of government has been driving toward that decreased expenditure which is the most practical assurance of diminished taxation. With enthusiastic resolution your administrative agents are making not only conscientious effort to reduce the call for appropriations but to reduce the cost of government far below the provided. It is easy to believe that the only way to diminish the burdens which the people must pay is to cut the outlay in which public moneys are expended.

War is not wholly responsible for staggering costs, it has merely accentuated the menace which lies in mounting cost of government and excesses in expenditure which a successful private business would not tolerate.

Pledges Huge Saving
I can make you no definite promise in figures today, but I can pledge you a most conscientious drive to reduce government cost by many millions. It would be most discouraging to those who are bending their energies to save millions to have congress add billions to our burdens at the very beginning.

Even were there not the threatened paralysis of our treasury, with its fatal reflexes on all our activities which concern our prosperity, would it not be better to await the settlement of our foreign loans? At such a time it would be a bestowal on the part of our government when it is able to bestow.

The United States participates in none of the distributable awards of war but the world owes us heavily and will pay when restoration is wrought. If the restoration fails world bankruptcy attends. I believe the world restoration is possible, but only with honest diligent work in productivity on the one hand, and honest and diligent opposition to needless public expenditure on the other.

Admits Obligations
It has been my privilege to speak to congress on our obligations to the disabled and dependent soldiers and the government's deep desire to prove its concern for their welfare. I should be ashamed of the republic if it failed in its duty to them. Neither armistice nor permanent peace puts an end to the obligations of the government to its defenders or the obligations of citizens to the government. Mindful of these things the administrative branch of the government has not only spoken, it has acted and has accomplished.

In view of some of the things which have been said, and very carelessly said, perhaps I ought to report officially some of the things which have been done.

A REMARKABLE OPPORTUNITY.
A new article has been invented that will make butter from either sweet or ripe cream in from 30 seconds to 3 minutes.

THE MARVEL CHURN
will be sold through agents only, and we are now demonstrating this churn and allocating territory to live men who want to make big money. So get busy.

I never came across anyone who

City and County

A gathering of members of the family and sympathetic friends marked the end of the brief earthly experience of tiny Katherine Page of Garden Grove, whose funeral was held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from St. Vincent's Catholic church, Los Angeles, with burial in the Catholic cemetery to follow. The little 2-year-old girl came to her death Saturday from being scalded by an overturned bucket of hot water. She is survived by her grief-stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Page of Garden Grove, and several brothers and sisters, among them being a tiny baby brother whose entry into this world came just the day before the tragic accident took the little sister out of it.

organization of the scientific men of the experiment stations and the state university who do research and field work along agricultural lines. The meetings are held monthly, the latest one being at the Riverside experiselection for citrus fruit was discussed by those present.

Funeral services for Welden tier Heights cemetery at 2 p. m. today. In addition to his wife and members of his immediate family at Irvine, the dead man is survived by two brothers, A. D. and E. D. Hollis.

Legionnaires with a taste for watching fistic encounters among knights of the ring are anticipating the regular meetings of the American Legion Thursday night of this week when they will be treated to a series of amateur boxing bouts arranged by the program committee of which Stanley Reed is chairman. In addition to the amusement features furnished by the bouts, a number of business matters will be brought before the Legionnaires, chief among them being the election of the twelve delegates who will represent the local post at the third annual convention of the department of California, American Legion, to be held in the Yosemite valley August 22 to 25, inclusive.

Much interest was being expressed today in the Newport Heights irrigation district, whose directors at 4
p. m. today were to open sealed bids on the bond purchase which will allow for the completion of the new irrigation system. The bonds total $160,000 and will provide for a new pumping plant, as well as for repairs of the old distributing system.

All is in readiness for the first of the series of band concerts which will be given during July and August by the Orange County Auto Trades association band, it was stated today by Manager Jim Durston of the band. The season will open Thursday night of this week, when the band at Birch park will present a well arranged program of popular music. Rehearsals have been held since last fall, it was stated by the manager, who asserts that he feels assured the music lovers of the city have much pleasure in store for them.

Announcement of the open meeting to be held by Sedgwick Post No.
17, G. A. R., at G. A. R. hall tomorrow at 2 p. m., today had aroused considerable interest. An address by the Rev. R. R. Raymond will be the leading feature. Readings will be given by Mrs. John Clarkson and a number of instrumentalists and vocalists will give selections. The public is invited.

A little Mexican lad, son of Jose Maldonado, while playing in a black smith shop cut his right arm badly with a chisel and was today carrying the injured member in a sling. The gash was a deep one and a number of stitches were found necessary to close the wound.

O. A. Haley, local automobile dealer was being treated today for a dislocated shoulder sustained at Laguna Beach Sunday afternoon. Haley, who with Mrs. Haley, is spending the summer season at their cottage there, was knocked down by a breaker while in bathing. He threw out his arm, which received the full force of the fall, resulting in the injury.

Interest is increasing in Santa Ana and other Orange county cities in the big Southern California reunion to be held by Illinoisans at Bixby park, Long Beach, all day, Saturday, July 23. It is stated this will be one of three mammoth picnics of the summer at the beach city. C. A.
Bryan, a former resident of Illinois,
will deliver the address of welcome.
The usual picnic features will be carried out.

There is an undelivered cablegram at the Western Union office addressed to Uyttersport, Santa Ana.
The local office has no such cable address on its records.

FREE EDUCATION
MEXICO'S NEED
SAYS PASTOR

That Mexico needs more teachers and more schools before she can ever contend with the other powers of the world, was the belief expressed today by the Rev. J. C. Nava, in charge of the Mexican mission of the First Methodist church, who returned to Santa Ana last night from Chihuahua, Mexico.

"There were just as many schools at Chihuahua and that state when I left Mexico thirteen years ago as there are now," said the Rev. Mr. Nava today. "The republic is encouraging education, but people are so poor that they can not afford it.
Only the rich class secure the benefit of college education, and most of them either come to the United States or go to Europe. There are not enough free schools, or teachers, and there is only one university in Mexico at present."

The Rev. Mr. Nava went to Chihuahua to attend the National Sunday school and young people's convention there. He reports the meetings largely attended and highly successful. One of the lectures was given by the Rev. Vincente Mendoza, former pastor here, at the Teatro de los Heroes, one of the best-known theaters in Mexico.

Business Improving
"Conditions in Mexico are becoming more settled," said the Rev. Mr.
Nava, "and business is picking up after the dull period of the war. None of the mines, however, are working in Chihuahua, and the government of the state, Enriquez, is encouraging agriculture instead. Practically all of the implements used on the haciendas are American."

Chihuahua, a city of 50,000 population, now has over 1000 automobiles and one government airplane, according to the Rev. Mr. Nava.
The Fourth of July was celebrated in Mexico both by the Americans
there and the Mexicans, the Rev.
Mr. Nava said today. Governor Enriquez and his staff, the American consul and others were present, and the Mexican military band played
"The Star-Spangled Banner."

Close to 160 Santa Ana friends of the Rev. Mr. Nava gathered at the Mexican community center last night to celebrate his homecoming. The Rev. Vincente Mendoza was among those present.

GROVE H. S. DISTRICT
ELECTS TRUSTEES

R. B. Richey, J. O. Arkley, William Lendhardt, S. Ohmar and Henry Hickman will serve as the first board of trustees for the Garden Grove high school district. They were elected trustees of the district at the election held at Garden Grove yesterday.

It is said there is talk now of holding an election in the near future to vote bonds for the erection of permanent high school buildings.
Instead of levying a special tax to raise funds for a temporary building.

It is believed that possibly some of the grammar school rooms can be used for the coming fall term, which will make it possible for the district to arrange for providing permanent buildings.

With plans under way for the grammar school districts of Brea and Alamitos joining with Garden Grove in a union high school district, it is probable that no definite action will be taken by Garden Grove district in providing permanent buildings until after an expression of voters in the other districts has been obtained on the proposed union district.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, July 12.—Mexican and South American oil shares opened higher today as the result of Washington reports that President Harding would oppose any import tax on oil.
The first sale of Mexican Petroleum was at 100 1/2 and it quickly gained another point. Pan American got above 49 1/2, up nearly 2 in the early trading.
Atlantic Gulf made an early high of 28 up 1 1/2 and Asphalt gained about two.
The rest of the list was helped by the strength in the oil group. After opening unchanged at 75, Baldwin jumped to 76. United States Steel opened at 74 1/2, up 1/2, and then ran up to 74
5/8. There was little change in rails.

Opening prices included:
Pennsylvania, 34, unchanged; Asphalt,
50 1/4, up 1 3/4; Mexican Petroleum, 100 1/2, up 1 1/4; Sinclair, 20 1/8, up 1/8;
General Motors, 47 1/2, up 1/2;

5/8; American Sugar, 88 1/4, up 1/8;
Northern Pacific, 73 3/8, up 3/8.
Shorts in American Sugar were further squeezed in the third hour, that stock being run up to 89 1/4.
The market suffered a sharp reaction shortly after 1 o'clock. After running up to 82 1/4 Studebaker sold off nearly 2 points.
Asphalt declined the same and other stocks were off a point or more. Mexican Petroleum dropped about 3 points.
The market closed in a general close.

Closing prices included:
United States Steel, 74 1/4, up 1/8;
Pan American, 49 1/2, up 1/8; Atlantic

CLOCK ON TOWER GETS SLEEPY AND DECIDES TO QUIT ITS LABORS

"Ho hum, but I'm sleepy. It is a hard job to keep busy all the time and have no more appreciation than I receive."

"Other people growl about an eight-hour day. I wonder what they would say if their hands were kept busy for twenty-four hours day after day, just as mine are? I can't even strike any more, no matter how much I want to, for they have so arranged matters that it is a physical impossibility for me to do so."

"Other people have summer vacations and yet no one ever thinks that maybe I'd like a wild time now and then, instead of having to stay in this one place all the time."

"My hands are tired just from the ceaseless round of duties and it's a quarter after 9 o'clock and a very hot day, so I guess I'll just take matters in my own hands and see if I can't make time stand still."

And, ceasing its complaint, the clock on the Spurgeon building tower was as good as its word—and stopped.

CONCRETE POURING ON STREET RUSHED

The end of the work of pouring concrete on Main street, between First and Fourth, is in sight. The concrete crew was working today on the last block and probably will finish the job by tomorrow night, according to expectations today.

If the usual period of twenty-one days elapsing between the pouring of the last concrete and the application of the wearing surface prevails in the improvement, the final completion of the work on the three blocks will be around August 10.

Various crews are at work on the three blocks north of Fourth street putting in gas, water and sewer mains and connections. Speed on the work is in evidence and it is possible that most of the installations will be out of the way by the end of this week. If they are Contractor Steele Finley will be in position to start grading operations the first of next week.

Good progress is being made in breaking up and clearing the old pavement from the section north of Seventh street to the city limits.

Finley has ninety days from July 1
in which to complete the contract for paving from Fourth to Seventeenth, but he expects to write finis on the job before that date.

George R. Curtis, who has the contract for paving north of Seventh, has 150 days from July 1 to complete his job. He also expects to finish his contract in less than the allotted time.

FULLERTON CHURCH

The trustees of the First Methodist church of Fullerton today petitioned the superior court to mortgage several lots, which the church owns in the township of Fullerton, in order that it may negotiate a loan with the Fullerton Savings bank.

According to the petition, the loan is not to exceed $20,000. It is to bear interest at 6 per cent and mature in not less than three years.

The trustees of the church desire the money to carry out an extension program which includes the building of a Sunday school room and recitation building.

It is also understood that the church is to conduct an extensive membership campaign, particularly among the younger set.

L. B. Steward is president of the board of trustees and L. E. Plummer is secretary.

The court is expected to set a date for the hearing of the petition next Friday.

Governor William D. Stephens,
Mayor George E. Cryer and Exalted Ruler Norman A. Baillie of Los An-

SHE TOOK HER

Because she took Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to get up at breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest."
I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me
by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoying my work every moment of the day."—Mrs. L. M.
DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Mich.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-

DENY RUMOR BIG MATSON LINER IS SINKING

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The Matson liner Hawkeye State is uninjured in the harbor of Salina Cruz, Mex., and will resume the voyage to San Francisco probably tomorrow, according to F. H. Bailey of the Matson Navigation company.

The sea-cock of the vessel were not opened, according to a wireless dispatch by the Matson company, and the vessel was not in a sinking condition when she put into Salina Cruz as reported.

Salt water was found in a number of the fresh water tanks of the vessel, the wireless stated, causing congestion in the boilers. When this condition was discovered the Hawkeye State put into the Mexican port to take on fresh water. The boilers will be blown out today and the vessel will proceed northward tomorrow, the wireless said.

REPORT STEAMER SINKING AS IT ENTERS HARBOR

MEXICALI, Lower Cal., Mexico, July 12.—The American steamship Hawkeye State entered Salina Cruz harbor yesterday in sinking condition, according to dispatches here today from the latter city.

The steamer's sea-cocks had been opened, the dispatch said. Sabotage rather than accident was indicated.

DAMAGED STEAMER DUE
IN LOS ANGELES TODAY

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—The Hawkeye State, reported as having made Salina Cruz harbor in sinking condition, was due in Los Angeles today.

She was en route from Baltimore to San Francisco, with a large passenger list.

Charles N. Peterson is captain. The Hawkeye State, according to shipping men here, had been allocated by the United States shipping board to the Matson line for service between San Francisco and Honolulu.

LOOK TO DAWES TO BRING CUT IN TAX

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Hope for a substantial reduction in the amount of federal taxes depends almost entirely on the "economy act" of Charles G. Dawes, new budget officer, it was shown today with the final enactment of the last appropriation measure—the naval bill.

Congress, a summary shows, has authorized the expenditure of approximately $3,585,000,000 during the present fiscal year which began last July 1. Last year, for the same purpose, a total of $3,717,273,392.90 was appropriated, the reduction thus being only about $132,000,000. This represents a reduction of only thirteen days' governmental spending, as the expenditures have been averaging $10,000,000 a day.

Dawes has stated that he proposes to cut the appropriations by 25 per cent during the coming year, which would effect a reduction of approximately $927,500,000.

The total appropriations do not include any appropriations for the railroads which last year received $800,000,000. So far no appropriation has been made for the current year, but it is expected that probably $400,000,000 will be necessary.

TOURISTS STILL ARRIVING.

"Warm weather doesn't seem to affect the steady stream of tourists and visitors," today stated D. M. Loveridge of the New Rossmore hotel, where in addition to the regular run of commercial men the following guests are registered: D. S. Walker, Milwaukee; Mrs. and Mr. B. F. Cantwell, Scranton, Pa.; Harry Rosenberg, New York City; J. T. Eckenle, R. A. White, San Bernardino; W. D. Taylor, R. F. Brady, H. C. Van Sickle, George W. Colton, Edwin G. Martin, Thomas C. Hammond and Roscoe S. Foster, San Diego.

PRECEDENCE IN RIDING.

Felix was the unconscious comedian of the company. He was an experienced horseman so he was given, at one time, the worst horses in the regiment to handle and "gentle."

One day when he had been given a particularly violent western horse, which knew how to swap ends with great rapidity, Felix was compelled not only to pull leather but to take a header. Just then the horse managed to get one of his own feet into the stirrup on the side next to where the stunned Felix sat. As the witty trooper saw the horse's plight, he said:

"Why the duce didn't you tell me it was you that wanted to ride and we'd have had a lot less trouble."

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO DEFEAT POWER GRAB

United Press Leased Wire
RIVERSIDE, Cal., July 12.—An appeal to the voters of San Francisco and of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys asking their aid in preventing the city of Los Angeles from obtaining political dominance of the state through the forthcoming reapportionment was made here last night by a committee representing the "Southern Interior counties of California."

The appeal issued by the committee primarily concerns itself with the hydro-electric situation in the state and asks the aid of the other portions of the state in order to prevent Los Angeles from obtaining control of hydro-electric sites which it is charged, imperil the safety of the southern interior counties.

The committee charged that Los Angeles has not only filed on 250,000 horsepower along the Owens river aqueduct, but has also filed on the best power sites as far north as the Hetch-Hetchy, and is now attempting to dominate the Colorado river power situation.

"The district attorney of Riverside county has been instructed," the appeal added, "to intervene in the condemnation cases by which the city of Los Angeles is attempting to condemn some 15,000 horsepower in the Owens river gorge solely needed for irrigation in Kern, Riverside, Inyo, San Bernardino, Mono and Imperial counties. Thus in the future the interior counties may be possibly forced to pay tribute to the city of Los Angeles."

SAYS MOVIE MEN AT PARTY UNDER PROBE

BOSTON, July 12.—Jesse L. Lasky, Adolph Zukor, Harry L. Asher and Walter E. Green, prominent movie magnates, attended "Brownie" Kennedy's famous girl and wine dinner in 1919, it was alleged today in the supreme court.

This testimony was given by Joseph Levenson, attorney for the men named. He was called to the stand in the hearing on charges brought by Attorney General Allen against Nathan L. Tufts, district attorney for Middlesex county. Allen alleges that Tufts conspired with others to extort money by threat of indictment from those who attended the famous party.

Levenson declared that he himself was at the dinner which was given at Mishawum Manor. He said there were 20 or 25 persons there, among them about 12 girls whom he said he had never seen before. He asserted he was at the party between 1 and 2 a. m. and that when he left the movie magnates went with him.

SPEEDING CASE ONCE MORE DEFERRED HERE

The case of Merrill Porter, who is charged with speeding in excess of 50 miles an hour, was continued again today when the matter came up before Justice of the Peace Cox. Horace Head, Attorney for Porter, demanded a jury trial. The case was reset for August 11 at 10 a. m. This makes the third time the case has been continued.

Porter was arrested by Traffic Officer H. S. Warner January 14 last. He was traveling on the Anaheim boulevard.

TELLS HOW RICH MEN ARE SOLD INSURANCE

A new angle in insurance, the details of how big policies are sold to wealthy men, the reason why insurance is carried as a protection of an estate against inheritance taxes and the costs of administration, were incorporated in a deeply interesting talk to the Orange County Life Underwriters' association at the New Rossmore hotel last night by F. S. Burgess of Los Angeles.

Burgess was introduced by Guy J. Gilbert, president of the county association, as the man who had written more insurance in the last year than any other man on the Pacific coast.

It was pointed out that Burgess yesterday closed the writing of a $7,000,000 insurance policy, the largest insurance ever written at one time in this state, said Gilbert. Recently he wrote a policy for $1,500,000 for Arthur Letts of Los Angeles.

"Insurance appeals to a man of wealth today as it never did before," said Burgess. "It is one method of keeping his estate together after his death."

Tells Tax Demands

Burgess pointed out that a large estate is subjected to a federal inheritance tax, ranging from 2 to 25 per cent when the estate is over $50,000, and to a state inheritance tax. The federal tax is levied on the right of the dead to pass property to the living who have not helped earn it, and the state levies its tax on the right of the living to receive it. Administration fees reach often 5 per cent, attorney's fees 2 per cent, and shrinkage of an estate, by reason of not having the driving force of the man who built it up behind it, averages 10 per cent.

"Thus," he said, "the business man can be shown that when he dies his estate will very quickly depreciate from 25 to 35 per cent unless he provides a fund of ready cash to hold the estate intact. Most men die without leaving ready cash."

Big Policies Easily Sold

"Securities have to be sold and good property has to be sacrificed, in order to meet taxes and other expenses of settling up the estate. It is good business for a big business man to carry enough insurance to meet every expense that he knows must be met by his executor and heirs. The business man sees that today, and that is why big policies are so easily sold."

"By proper insurance, death can be made to pay for its own disaster."

EX-KAISER'S YACHT
ON MARKET; TEUTON
ASKS 'DOUG' TO BUY

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, July 12.—In re the estate of William Hohenzollern, insolvent.

William or William's creditors, would sell his private yacht, Meteor K, now at Kiel, for $170,000.

Furthermore, they would sell it to Mr. Douglas Fairbanks of the U. S. A. The latter today received a letter from Hans Sarnow, of the Nord Deutsch bank, Hamburg, offering the palatial yacht to Fairbanks "for immediate delivery." It is of finest Krupp steel, built in 1914, and is 37 meters over all.

But Mr. Fairbanks has his own ideas on the matter.

"What could I do with the thing?" he confided to the United Press. "It's too big for the natorium at my place at Beverly Hills, and I don't want it cluttering up the property room at the studio."

"No, thanks; tell Bill I guess I'll get along without his yacht."

SUNBURN FATAL TO WEALTHY L. A. MAN

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Emory Ewart Watchorn, only son of former Treasurer Watchorn of the Union Oil company, died here of what physicians said today to be a mysterious malady, "possibly induced by sunburn."

Young Watchorn was an American aviator ace on the Italian front during the war.

Life insurance represents business stability in the American family. The big problem of men of great wealth today is not how to increase their wealth but how to conserve what they have.

Burgess said that two cases in Los Angeles estates have been pointed out to Los Angeles business men as instances of what might happen to their estates. One is the Stoddard Jess estate and the other the Wolf-skill.

Heavy Tax Levies

Jess, a Los Angeles banker, died, and soon afterward his widow died. In one year the estate was subjected to two sets of inheritance tax demands. In the Wolfskill fine property had to be sold at a sacrifice in order to get money for meeting the legal demands upon the estate.

L. R. Crawford, advertising agent, addressed the life underwriters last evening upon the details of a proposed advertising campaign.

W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, in an address said that the banks believe in life insurance as a sound business policy.

Laguna Beach Is Mecca of Distinguished Art Connoisseurs

Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, prominent among the art connoisseurs of the Los Angeles smart set, are spending the summer at Laguna Beach and on Sunday evening they were guests at a dinner given there by Mr. and Mrs. William Swift Daniels, who are also well known among the old residents of Los Angeles and in art circles, in which Mr. Daniels is noted as an able painter.

The Daniels have with them as a house guest at their studio home in Laguna, Mrs. Daniels' sister, Miss Evelyn Lance, of Pasadena. Interesting new acquisitions to the artist colony of Laguna are Mr. and Mrs. Wamsley Lenhard, of Philadelphia and New York, who are contemplating making their home in California. Over the week-end they were hosts at a delightful house party.

Mrs. Scott Will Pour Tea At the Alexandria

Mrs. Blanche Scott, of Pasadena and Santa Ana, has been invited by the Elks of Los Angeles to be one of four ladies to pour tea at the Alexandria hotel for visiting Elks and ladies, next Friday; and she sends a special invitation to Santa Ana ladies who may be in the city that day to drop in for rest, refreshment and social intercourse.

Y. W. C. A. Summer Camp Is Big Success

Girls who are guests at the Y. W. C. A. summer camp at Horseshoe Bend in the San Bernardino mountains are having the time of their lives. Each day is filled with fun and work, and the girls are benefiting from the happy camp life there. High school girls over the age of sixteen years are at the camp this week. Among other good times they have enjoyed were an old-fashioned dance at Crestline, where an old-fashioned fiddler played for the quadrille and Virginia reel. The next day the girls took an all-day horseback ride to the desert. Trips to the Los Angeles municipal playground in the Waterman canyon are often enjoyed.

The girls who are at camp at present will be there until July 19. After that date any high school or Junior college girl may go.

Mrs. Mary Matthews Leaves On Extended Motor Trip

Mrs. Mary P. Matthews, 1605 East Fourth street, left the latter part of last week for Colorado Springs. The party expects to make its headquarters at the Antlers hotel, Colorado Springs. Mrs. Matthews contemplates visiting her old home, Central City, Nebraska, and relatives in Omaha. On her return she will stop at Cheyenne, Ogden and Salt Lake City.

Dinner at St. Ann's

Khaki Folk.

The town is full of khaki folk Headed for the hills,
Headed for the spaces far
That cures the city's ills.
Headed for the long, long trail
Where the golden sunlight pours,
For the open ways and the sunny days,
Of the fragrant out o' doors.
The old machine is loaded down
Until you think she'd choke;
But there's smiles upon the faces
Of the happy khaki folk They're headed for the white trails
The lilt of woodland streams,
The scent of pine so pure and fine
The summer land of dreams.
They know the guerdon of the quest,
They know the quiet skies;
They hear the gentle voice of rest
In Nature's lullabies.
They know the forest whispers Though ne'er a word is spoke,
They're off today for the great white way
Oh, happy khaki folk!

What Southern California Woman's Clubs Are Doing

The first attempt at bringing together the members of the Fifth District P. T. A. at an outdoor meeting and outing was a splendid success, as over 100 women interested in this line of work, from San Bernardino, Beaumont, Corona, Riverside, Redlands, Upland, Bloomington and Mission gathered in Fairmount Park, Riverside, the most central point for the picnic and program.

Mrs. C. C. Noble of Los Angeles, state president, took a prominent part in the program. At the morning session a discussion on "How Can Mothers Best Retain the Confidence of Their Children?" brought many ideas on the subject. Mrs. Noble answered questions and offered helpful suggestions in regard to the work in all parts of the district.

Boy Scout Harry Cook, Jr., of San Bernardino sounded the mess call at noon and the company gathered about several long tables spread with many appealing picnic dishes. The many happy kiddies present and enjoying the outing was an evidence that "Mother" can enjoy an outing and be on "the job" at the same time.

When assembly was again called at 1:15, the same scout presented the flag for the salute that is given with the opening of every P. T. A. meeting. Reports of the state convention given showed that 42,998 members are now enrolled in the state membership.

The resolution passed at that convention commending the movement for better films and pledging the cooperation of P. T. A.'s in promoting better films and urging the individual associations to work for simplicity and modesty of dress in every school was endorsed again when referred to. The endorsement of Voters' Day was also referred to. Mrs. David O. Mears, national vice president, gave an original toast to mothers which was given in its beauty again: "May they be noble like Cornelia, A comrade as Queen Louise, Loyal as Ruth, Devoted as Rizpah, Full of good works as Dorcas, Ready to serve like Martha, Teachable like Mary of Bethany, Wise as Deborah, Prayerful like Hannah, Versed in the Scripture like Lois, As full of goodness, sweetness, wisdom and love as your Mother and Mine."

Mrs. Noble's report and talk on the national convention was splendid, and having been in child welfare work for 17 years, she had a wonderful fund of experience to draw on in interesting the mothers.

Mass Meeting of Women To Be Held Tomorrow In Los Angeles

Santa Ana clubwomen have been invited to the mass meeting of women to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Friday Morning clubhouse, Los Angeles, under the auspices of the Women's Legislative Council of California, on "Women in Legislation." Lawton, president of the Women's council, will preside and will give a brief account of the activities of the council at the last session of the state legislature.

The meeting will be followed by an informal reception. Mrs. Belle Mulford, recording secretary of the council, is chairman of the reception committee. Among other officers and chairmen of committees, who will assist, are: Mmes. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Emma I. Reed, Charles S. McKelvey, M. E. Jenkins, F. W. Fuller, J. B. Stearns, T. B. Bowling, L. W. Gleason and Ellen French Aldridge.

An invitation is extended to all women who are interested in the work of the council to attend the meeting. The presidents of affiliated organizations are requested to be present.

In honor of the twenty-seventh birthday anniversary of their son, Verne, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, 810 North Ross street, entertained at a delightful affair last Friday evening which was, indeed, a family reunion since all of their eight children were at home together for the first time. Palatable refreshments were served, a delicious cake bearing twenty-seven lighted candles adding a brilliant bit to the service.

The children of the Floyd Smiths are:

Theatres

Viola Dana in "Puppetts of Fate" is the film being shown at the Princess theater tonight and tomorrow.

This story of an Italian beauty whose tragic experience touches the heartstrings and compels interest, is an exceptional one. Viola Dana plays the stellar role of Sorrentina Palombr, the exquisite Venetian donna, who pines in her cracked old palazzo, while her husband, Gabriel, dissipates in America, whether he has gone to win his fortune. Unexpectedly startling is the thrilling denouement of the picture.

For her supporting cast, Miss Dana has Francis McDonald, Jackie Saunders, Fred Kelsey, Thomas Rickertis and Edward Kennedy.

EFFICIENCY CLUB MEETS

Adoption of the constitution of the Spurgeon Efficiency club was a feature of the meeting of the organization last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin R. Hall, 101 North French street. ### 4630 VETERANS ENTER HOMES IN ONE YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 12—National soldiers' homes for disabled volunteer soldiers admitted 4630 former service men the last fiscal year, Gen. G. C. Wood, president of the homes, told a senate investigating committee. The national homes at Marion, Ind., and Johnson City, Tenn., now are used exclusively for the treatment of World war veterans, he said, the former for neurosyphilitic, and the latter for tuberculosis patients.

Veterans are admitted, General Wood said, upon presentation of honorable discharge papers and vocational training is given when requested by the federal board. A telegram from John Henry White, San Francisco, stating he had information of misappropriation of government funds and the payment of "bush" money by federal officials was referred by the committee to the attorney general for investigation.

DRAFT PLANS TO URGE PARENTAL SCHOOL MOVE

Meeting this morning in the office of the board of education, the members of the committee on a county parental school completed their plans for the presentation of the subject to the county school trustees at their annual meeting to be held tomorrow at the armory.

The members of the committee, who gathered at the request of the chairman, J. A. Cranston, who came from Laguna Beach to be present, were Mrs. John Clarkson, Mrs. Earl L. Morris, the Rev. John Oliver R. F. Mitchell and C. H. Chapman, all of whom were appointed by Paul E. Wright, county probation officer, acting for the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, whose interest in the establishment of such a school has been marked.

Movement for the establishment of the school was first launched when it developed that the penal and reform institutions and schools are all overcrowded and many un-guaranteed boys are receiving a street education in delinquency.

Revealed By Y Work
This came to light in the work of the county Y. M. C. A. among boys and it was stated that twenty-eight near-delinquent boys have already been aided by those interested in the movement.

The need of the establishment of such a school has already been felt elsewhere and it was stated that at Fresno and at San Bernardino, schools already in operation are accomplishing a great deal of good.

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, will present the matter to the trustees tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be followed by other speakers from different points in the county in a general discussion of the subject.

Superintendent Nellis of the state school at Whittier has accepted an invitation to be present and will give a short talk on the advantages of reaching boys before they reach the delinquent stage.

It was said that general sentiment throughout the county seems to be favorable to the establishment of the school and, according to Superintendent Mitchell, one district, Placentia, has already announced an intention to join in the movement.

Countywide Project
"The fact should be recognized that the establishment of such a school is by no means a Santa Ana proposition," said the Rev. Mr. Oliver.

"Santa Ana is deeply interested, of course, but the advantages are countywide and men all over the county are working to further the movement."

"In case the movement is successful, the location of the school will depend entirely upon the trustees appointed to represent the school district."

"Santa Ana recognizes the need because we have had it pointed out to us by Probation Officer Paul Wright, that we have 300 wards of the juvenile court in our city alone."

"These boys must be saved the experience of being sent to a reform institution, if possible, and no better means has ever been devised to save boys from such an experience, than the 24-hour day, parental school."

ELKS VISIT BEACH
A fair representation of members of Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., at Redondo Beach last night attended the dance with which the visiting delegates from all parts of the country were entertained. A big barbecue preceded the dance and proved a highly entertaining feature to the visitors.

COX TO HOBNOB WITH RAILROAD MAGNATES AT PASADENA TONIGHT

Reminiscences of their younger days spent in Fayetteville, Ark., about forty years ago, will form the chief topic of conversation when Justice of the Peace Cox, Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific and Salt Lake railroads, and William McNair, retired official of the same road, gather about a table in the dining room of the Maryland hotel at Pasadena this evening.

Judge Cox met the two well known railroad men when they were beginning their careers in the little Arkansas town. Gray was a telegraph operator and McNair was a division superintendent at that time. According to Judge Cox, McNair taught Gray telegraphy and other rudiments of a small town railroad office.

Judge Cox left his bench before noon today for Pasadena. Justice of the Peace Leo Goepfer of Newport took his place for the rest of the day.

Cox stated that he expected to mingle with the nabobs about the aristocratic hotel until the wee small hours of tomorrow morning.

TAX DELINQUENT ON FRIDAY, WARNING

The business license tax for the third quarter of this year will be collected delinquent Friday of this week, according to announcement today by Ed L. Vegely, city clerk. Vegely today gave public notice of this fact through publication in The Register.

A number of merchants have given the matter attention already, but a large number have not, says Vegely. The tax has been due since July 1. A penalty of ten per cent will be added Friday.

City Marshal Jernigan today was investigating activities of individuals and firms who have failed to pay their license tax for the second quarter of this year. The investigations are being made to determine whether the delinquents are still engaged in business, preparatory to citing them before City Recorder W. F. Heathman for failure to renew their licenses.

The delinquents who are found to have been doing business the last quarter, or who are still in business, will be cited.

It is the intention of the city officials to make everyone pay who is liable for the business tax. It is said that some who have failed to renew have advised their friends not to pay the fee.

PROBATION FOR BOY WHO STOLE RIG HERE

Superior Judge Williams today granted probation to Jose Chavez, 16, Mexican, after the boy had been given a hearing in his court on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy belonging to William McKenzie, local rancher. Chavez and his father both declared that the theft, which constituted grand larceny, was the boy's first offense.

McKenzie tied the horse to a post at the corner of Third and Birch street last Wednesday. Young Chavez drove the horse and buggy to a street adjacent to the Southern Pacific depot, left it there overnight, and then started for Talbert the next morning.

When he beat the horse into a gallop the attention of B. W. McClure was attracted to the outfit. McClure recognized the rig as the property of his friend McKenzie. He gave chase and overtook the boy at Birch and Fairview streets.

Chavez tried to tell City Marshal Sam Jernigan that a Mexican man gave him the horse and buggy, and he reiterated this tale to Judge Williams this morning.

HALT ROCK AND OIL WORK PLAN ON SPURGEON

The city council last night reversed its action of a week ago in directing Street Superintendent Edward Dahl to proceed with the improvement of Spurgeon street, from Washington to Seventeenth, with rock and oil before property owners on the street deposit money to pay for the rock and oil to be used in the improvement.

The property owners petitioned for the work, agreeing to pay for the rock and oil. When the petition was granted it was with the understanding that the owners should deposit with the street superintendent money to cover the cost of the material before work should be started.

A week ago last night, upon the verbal promise of a property owner that all owners wanted the work done and that all would pay their proportion, the street superintendent was directed to start the work at once.

The changed attitude of the council as developed last night, was the result of experience had with certain property owners on East Seventeenth street, who had agreed to pay certain proportion of the cost of installation of a main sewer line.

Ready to Start
At the time the arrangement was made paving work was ready to start and the sewer work could not be held up until the owners deposited fifty per cent of the costs with the city.

The work was done a year and a half ago. Five of the owners have not yet paid the costs charged up to them. Investigations are to be made, and, if it can be proven that the owners made definite verbal promises that they would pay their proportion of the costs, efforts will be made to collect the amounts due, through court action, unless the accounts are settled without recourse to law.

Fearing that a similar situation might develop on Spurgeon street, the council decided to halt proceedings on the improvement until every property owner has deposited his share of the costs of rock and oil.

Bar Handbills
Passing out on the streets of cards, handbills and other advertising matter or the placing of such in automobiles standing on the streets soon will be prohibited in Santa Ana. An ordinance making it a misdemeanor to do this was given its first reading last night and will be finally adopted at the regular meeting to be held Monday night of next week.

A communication was received from the Chamber of Commerce asking the city council to co-operate with the board of supervisors in improving West Santa Clara avenue and Flower street to their connection with Chapman street at once so that those streets may be used in directing traffic off Main street while that thoroughfare is being repaved. The matter was placed in the hands of Street Commissioner W. A. Greenleaf.

Application of G. L. Simpson for permission to operate a fruit stand at the auto park at Main and Second streets was granted.

Request of Tom Robinson for permission to operate a repair garage at 1216 West Fifth was referred to Tubbs and Dale.

Application of Al Fogel for permission to conduct public dances at Athletic hall on Spurgeon was referred to the police.

To Complete Paving
With announcement by George Wells that Mrs. H. W. Doolittle had signed a contract for paving in front of her property at the corner of Ross and Pine, Wells and Bressler were given permission to com-

SUMMON PACKER CO. HEADS IN GRAFT PROBE

United Press Leased Wire
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 12.—Two officials of Chicago packing companies were summoned today to appear before the Sangamon county grand jury investigating alleged juggling of $10,000,000 in state funds.

Sheriff Masters went to Chicago to subpoena Fred W. Crowell, treasurer of Armour and company and L. A. Carton, treasurer of Swift.

Claims that these two companies were permitted to borrow $10,000,000 from the state on which only 2 per cent interest was received by the state treasurer are being probed by the grand jury.

The investigation which got underway yesterday may be used for a basis for civil suits against Ben Small, Lieutenant Governor Stirling and Auditor Andrew Russell, all of whom served terms as state treasurer, to recover $2,000,000.

The amount which Attorney General Edward Brundage believes is due the state in interest money withheld from state funds by former treasurers.

Application of J. D. Peters for permission to operate a "hot dog" stand at the corner of French and Fourth streets was denied, upon recommendation of the committee to which the request was referred at last week's meeting. The committee stated that four restaurants are operating near the corner, and that it would be unfair to the owners to permit such a stand there.

The Santa Fe company presented a draft of a franchise it wants for installation of a spur track on Santiago street to serve the Nicholls-Loomis company when it completes building of its plant on Fruit street.

The company asks for a fifty-year franchise. The city clerk was directed to inform the company that the council would not grant a franchise for that period, but would grant one for twenty-five years.
Resolution 719, establishing the official grade of West Fifth street, was adopted.
Given First Reading
Resolution 723, instructing the city engineer to draft plans and specifications and present an estimate of the cost of paving Bristol street, was adopted. City Engineer W. W. Hoy asked for instructions as to whether he should provide for drainage on the street. The question brought up the subject of whether drainage should be provided for by paving the full width of the street or with drainage mains on the east side of the street. Hoy was directed to prepare a pencil sketch of the district drained by Bristol and an estimate of the additional cost of full width paving and an estimate of separate drainage.

Unique Truck Exhibit Here

Novel Mack Truck Exhibit

A two-and-a-half-ton chassis of a Mack truck lying on its side and with parts exposed so that critical examination may be made. Power is from the motor of the truck upon which the chassis is transported.

The idea of the exhibit was developed in the factory branch of the company at Los Angeles," said Hemmes today. "It is unique and in a class by itself. We are here to show it to anyone who is interested in truck operation. It is an educational feature. The exposed parts offer opportunity for one to study construction and operation of the motor, gears and other working parts.

"We are showing it to individual truck owners and will take it to any ranch or place in the county upon request from a truck owner or individual interested in viewing the exhibit."

"Manual Arts and other high schools of Los Angeles have considered the exhibit of such educational value that we have been requested to present it at different schools when the fall term opens and have arranged tentative dates for September."

TO TRY SMILING 'GEOLOGIST' AS SWINDLER OF CAPITALIST

One of Three Suspected of Fleeing Yorba Linda Bank to Face Court

TRAPPED BY DETECTIVE

Arrested At Long Beach As He Is Caught Off Guard
With $500.00 Draft

Said to have been affiliated with one of the cleverest gangs of swindlers that ever operated on the Pacific coast, W. Wignol, smiling "geologist," will go on trial before a jury in Department No. 1 of the superior court tomorrow morning on a charge of defrauding the First National bank of Yorba Linda out of $300.

When he was given a preliminary hearing here in the justice court on May 12, Wignol seemed to get more "kick" out of the proceedings than anybody else in the courtroom. He did not take the stand himself and had little to say, but he wore a perpetual smile and chewed gum incessantly.

The defendant is but one of four men who are alleged to have entered into the conspiracy to defraud the bank. Burns detectives have scoured the country for some trace of the missing trio. One of the quartette is said to be known to every police department in the state as one of the cleverest bunco artists in the field.

Early last April the four men presented themselves to the officials of the Yorba Linda bank. They claimed to be oil promoters and prospectors from San Francisco. Two were represented as capitalists, one as an attorney and the other, Wignol, was the "geologist."

Seek Oil Land Option
Dr. Lester Keller, president of the bank, testified at the preliminary hearing that Wignol was introduced to him as "Sharkey."

T. T. Franklin, one of the "capitalists," sought an option on certain oil lands which the doctor owned. The tract had been examined, he said, by Wignol and pronounced acceptable.

On April 15 Franklin gave Dr. Keller a check for $500 to clinch the option. A day or two later he appeared at the bank again and opened a checking account, giving the cashier a check for $1000 drawn on a San Francisco bank. A few days later Franklin increased his account by depositing a second check for $1,200.

J. W. Harrgrave, cashier of the Yorba Linda bank, testified at the preliminary examination that Franklin rushed into the bank a day or two after making the second deposit, withdrew $300 in cash and bought a draft on the Merchants National bank of Los Angeles. The draft was for the sum of $527.30 and payable to one J. T. DeWitt.

Wignol is alleged to have called at the Los Angeles bank and introduced himself as DeWitt. He presented the draft and sought to get it cashed. Orland Cox, assistant cashier of the Los Angeles bank, with whom Wignol was dealing, declined to cash the draft without proper identification.

Y BOYS RETURN FROM OUTING ON ISLAND

With the return today of Secretaries G. S. Chessum and R. R. Miller of the Y. M. C. A., together with the ten leaders and the seventy boys who attended the boys' camp at Catalina Island, the Orange county representation completed its camping experience and turned the camp over to the next Y group who will occupy it for a period of two weeks.

The entire two weeks at Camp Wikie has been characterized by a happy time for the boys and their leaders. Hikes, swimming instruction and all manner of camp activities were on the daily program of camp life and the boys' enjoyment can be best gauged by the enthusiasm with which they discuss plans for return to camp another season.

Secretaries Chessum and Miller will at once take up the activities of the county work, which has remained quiescent during their absence. A happening of the near future is the picnic of the members of the county committee and their families which will be held Friday.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR S. A. TEACHER WHO DIED HERE SUDDENLY

Funeral services were held this morning for Miss Flora Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crawford, 522 East Pine street, who died Saturday evening at her home, after an illness of a few hours. The Rev. F. F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, read the service at the Mills and Winbigler Mission Funeral home at 10 o'clock. Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, who sang "Peace I Leave With Thee," interment was made at Fairhaven cemetery, and the pallbearers were Ana Hoffman, Arthur Patterson, J. A. Cranston, F. W. Slabaugh, W. B. Tedford and C. H. Chapman.

Miss Crawford's sudden death came as a shock to her many friends here, who have known her since she came here with her family two years ago from Fairbault, Minn. She was one of the city's most popular teachers, having taught arithmetic and writing in the McKinley school. She was attending summer school at the southern branch of the University of California, Los Angeles, and had come home last Saturday morning to spend the week-end, when she was stricken ill and died shortly afterward.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crawford, two brothers, George and Richard Crawford, and one sister, June Crawford, all of this city, and two brothers, Wallace and Fred, of Fairbault, Minn.

TRUSTEES READY FOR MEETING AT ARMORY

School Authorities Prepared For Fourth Annual County Session

Twenty-three juveniles have become wards of the juvenile court during the first six months of this year. The number for the same period of 1920 was twenty, or an increase for 1921 of three.

These are records from the office of Paul Wright, county probation officer, as supplied to The Register today.

It is an answer to the query, Is delinquency among children in Orange county on the increase?

It is pointed out as being an answer to the query, Does Orange county need a parental school?

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the need of a parental school in Orange county will be discussed before school trustees of the county in their fourth annual session.

The discussion will start at 2 o'clock and today many people interested in the matter were planning to be present.

Will Present Subject
Paul Wright and R. Y. Williams, judge of Department 2 of the Orange county superior court, will be speakers.

They will present the subject, Both are in close touch with the delinquents of the county and both have expressed their belief that the establishment of a parental school is one of the crying needs of the county.

The school is suggested as a need to correct boys and girls who show tendency toward waywardness.

It is believed that by the operation of such a school close to the homes of those who become charges of the juvenile court the influence on the young people would be far greater than it is in a school located distant from the homes of the wards.

Mother, father, sister or brother, and friends, are very dear to the boys and girls whom it has been found necessary to take in hand under legal authority, and the wards will be much more contented if they are where frequent calls may be made by friends and relatives.

Will Get Training
In addition to giving them the advantages of schooling, it is proposed to give them an insight into agriculture and industries.

These features would make the school valuable and when the boys and girls have completed their time in the institution they would leave fully qualified to take their places as useful men and women in the communities in which they belong.

It is pointed out by the enthusiasts, The Kiwanis and Rotary clubs have appointed a joint committee to work among juvenile offenders, and it is understood that Wright and Williams will appear on the program at the suggestion of the committee.

The program for the convention tomorrow as prepared by R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, is full of interest to the trustees and those who are interested in matters educational.

Mark Keppel, superintendent of schools in Los Angeles county, will be a speaker at the forenoon session, and will talk on the new school laws.

Mrs. Earl Morris of Santa Ana will discuss the new county library.

The morning session opens at 9 o'clock at the armory on Birch street.

H. H. Hill of Santa Ana, former superintendent of the county detention home, said today that he would go before the convention of tomorrow and oppose the parental school plan.

"I don't believe in it at all," said he, "for the reason that when a boy is sent to a parental school he is branded."

KIWANIANS STUDY MEX. CONSTITUTION

Several Kiwanians in this city have read the Mexican constitution, and particularly article twenty-seven, within the past week, if they made good on their statement a week ago at the meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club.

At the meeting of the club tomorrow at St. Ann's Inn, A. M. McDermott will talk on the constitution, stressing article twenty-seven. He was to have given an address last week's meeting but omitted it because so much of the time was taken up with business matters. He was asked by the club to deliver his address tomorrow.

McDermott has passed a number of years in Mexico in the management of mining properties and is well versed on the laws of that country.

Raymond Miles will be chairman of the meeting. The club's outing meeting will be held at Laguna Beach July 27. It will be a courtesy to the wives and sweethearts of the members.

Increased activities of the club in civic matters has developed additional expenses for the club and in order to place the club in position to do effective work the directors have recommended that the initiation fee be raised from $15 to $20 and the annual dues from $7 to $15. Action on the recommendation of the directors will be taken at the regular meeting July 20.

HOLDS JAPANESE CORNER BOOSTS BERRY PRICES

At Same Time, Vegetables and Fruits Are Lower, Is Shown Here

Strawberries, loganberries and blackberries are selling at 15 cents a box in Santa Ana.

At this time last year the same commodities were selling at a lower figure.

In view of the fact that for the most part prices on fruits and vegetables are lower this year than last, considerable interest has been shown in this fact here.

"There are very few berries grown in this locality," explained F. C. Blauer, Santa Ana grower, today. "Practically all of those consumed here are shipped in each day from Los Angeles."

Urges 'Cot Use.

"If Santa Ana people would use more apricots and peaches on the table in place of the berries the situation might be alleviated. The Japs in Los Angeles have a corner on the berry market and may set the price practically to suit themselves."

Blauer said he has found that very few berries have been purchased for canning this year in comparison with other years and he attributes it to the higher prices.

"You can't blame the Japs very much," continued Blauer.

"They are only allowed to rent land in the state for a period of three years and they naturally enough want to make as much as possible while they have the chance."

"I believe the big trouble lies in the fact that the Japs are allowed to hold the property for such a short time. If they were to hold the acreage where they grow the berries, say for ten or twelve years, I don't think we would have any difficulty in keeping the price of berries within limits."

Yet the price of strawberries, loganberries and blackberries is higher than last year, and there apparently seems to be no shortage.

ELK DELEGATES TO L. A. TO VISIT HERE

With flashy dress of white shirts and trousers, purple socks and ties and big sombreros Santa Ana Elks are expected to cut a big swath in the parade of Elks in Los Angeles Thursday.

Two hundred members of the local lodge are expected to be in line. W. W. Wasser, secretary of the lodge, was in Los Angeles today completing final details for the appearance of the marching section.

A large number of the members are enjoying the delights of mixing with "Bills" from all parts of the United States. Reports are to the effect that the visitors are having a fine time and that the convention is proving one of the most successful ever held by the order.

Los Angeles headquarters of the Santa Ana lodge is at the Crescent Creamery company building. An electric parade of fireworks is to be one of the features of convention week in Los Angeles and thousands of residents of the Southland are making plans for witnessing the big display.

Friday and Saturday of this week are to be visiting days for the Elks. It is expected the delegates will scatter to all parts of Southern California to drink in the beauties of this section.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is preparing to treat visitors to this city to an automobile tour through the interesting sections of Santa Ana and Orange county.

Miss Arlie Cravath and D. W. Green, assistant secretaries of the chamber, today were engaged in securing promise of owners to hold themselves in readiness to answer calls for the use of their machines in driving members of the Antlered herd through the city and county.

The visitors have been invited to make their headquarters at Elks' hall. They will register there and will be taken to any point they desire.

ANGRY OWL PUTS VET ON CASUALTY LIST

WOODLAND, July 12.—Darrell De Coe, veteran of the World War, and a former Sacramento rancher, reports that he had a battle with an owl this week that developed more fight than he encountered overseas.

De Coe was picking apples in his orchard south of town. The owl was frightened out of its nest. It attacked De Coe, and before the latter could bring his flaps and a strong club into action he was on the casualty list as "wounded in action."

WARNS ACCUSED 'FAGS' BARRED IN COURT

Prisoners before the bar and witnesses, even in the justice court, may not smoke cigarettes.

It may be done in Mexico, but not in Santa Ana, California.

Ladislado Vallabos, Mexican, at the county jail today ruminated over this.

Also, he was turning over in his mind whether to pungle up $500 bail and so secure his release pending his appearance in superior court on a charge of non-support, preferred by his wife.

Justice of the Peace Cox held him to answer.

The defendant was seated on the jury bench, less than three feet from the witness stand. After hearing the adverse testimony of two of his own sons, who accused him of failing to provide for their mother, Vallabos crossed his legs, stuck a cigarette in his mouth and lighted it. He "got away with it."

Offers "Fag" to Witness
About that time one of the defendant's friends, Pete Aguerre, was called to testify in his behalf. The moment Aguerre adjusted himself in the witness chair Vallabos offered him a cigarette.

"Where do you get that?" yelled Deputy District Attorney Roland Thompson.

The defendant withdrew the cigarette and the man on the stand dropped his extended hand.

"That might go in Mexico, but it doesn't go here," said Thompson.

Vallabos' two sons testified that he left their home in Orange in November, 1919, and that he had given his wife no money since then.

The defendant sought to counteract this damaging testimony by calling three of his acquaintances, who were supposed to tell why he left home.

Have Little to Say
They had little to say, however. One declared through the interpreter that he desired to tell the truth but the only information that he could offer was that the defendant desired to return to Mexico.

"It is apparent that somebody is holding out," said Attorney Thompson.

The defendant himself was then called. He explained that he sought to induce his wife to return to Mexico, "where living conditions are better than they are in the United States" and that his Senora refused to follow him.

Vallabos said that he had suffered a lot from his wife and family. One of the witnesses who had been called by the defendant was again put on the stand.

"Suffering" Told
"Do you know anything about this man's suffering?" asked Justice Cox. "I know his children disobey him sometimes," was the answer.

"Well, I'm going to hold the defendant to answer to the superior court," said the justice. "His bail will be fixed at $500 and he will be remanded to the custody of the sheriff until he puts it up."

At the time of his arrest the defendant had in his possession a passport to Mexico and $500. Every available seat in the justice court was occupied by Mexicans during the preliminary.

BIRCH ATTORNEYS TO START PROTEST FIGHT THURSDAY, IS WORD

According to word received by District Attorney A. P. Nelson, attorneys for the Birch Oil company will appear before the county board of equalization Thursday of this week.

It is understood that the Birch company will make its usual annual fight against the assessment figures as fixed by County Assessor James Sleeper.

The Birch assessment this year totals $1,153,045 as against $884,375 last year.

MAN TELLS POLICE HE IS THEFT VICTIM

A man who said his name was Freeman reported to the police department late last night that his home on West Fifth street, just beyond the city limits, was robbed some time yesterday.

Among the valuables reported missing are $10 in currency and a buckskin purse, a pair of trousers and an automatic pistol, .32 caliber. Freeman said he suspected two Mexicans.

He questioned them, he said, but they cleared themselves by giving a substantial alibi.

Curtis Newton of Orange today reported to the local police department that a thief entered his tent on Glassell street, Orange, some time yesterday and stole a straight razor, a hone, a pair of shears, a pair of orange clippers, a coat, a shirt, a suit of underwear and two cans of milk.

PER CAPITA WEALTH $52.42, SAYS REPORT

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Money in circulation in the United States July 1 amounted to $52.42 per capita, according to a statement by the treasury. The total was $5,774,065,000. ## AMATEUR TRUCK FARMERS MAKE HEAVY DEMAND UPON CITY'S H2O STORE

Per Capita Water Consumption

NEW WELL IN OPERATION

Summer Months Make Great Drain on Municipal Supply, Shown

Forward, the squash brigade of Beans to the right of them, beans to the left of them—

And so on. Not that this has to do with vegetables, particularly.

But it does deal with amateur gardeners, and the amount of water they consume here in ministering to their patches of carrots, turnips and what not.

Which brings this little tale down to the subject in hand.

To make the story short, amateur agriculturalists of Santa Ana are close on the heels of the championship in the race for the first honors in the quantity of aqua pura used here per diem per capita.

Wray Gives Figures
So declares Walter Wray, municipal water superintendent, who announced today that during June each man, woman and child used an average of 217 gallons of water in Santa Ana each day.

Furthermore, Wray gives it as his opinion that the number of gardens scattered over the city are the explanation of the fact that June—as well as the other summer months—always makes heavy demands on the pumping capacities of the municipal water system.

"Monday is always the heaviest day of the week, due partly to the extra work at the laundries, but largely to the amateur gardeners who observed the Sabbath day and so give their vegetable patches a more thorough soaking Monday night," said Wray.

Summer Demand Heavy
"Naturally the three summer months mark the peak of the load so far as the demand on the water supply is concerned, but each year sees an increase in the amount of water needed and used in the city.

The growth of Santa Ana is as clearly shown by that fact as by any of which I know, for each new house built in the city, predicated the necessity of new water plugs and an increased amount of water required."

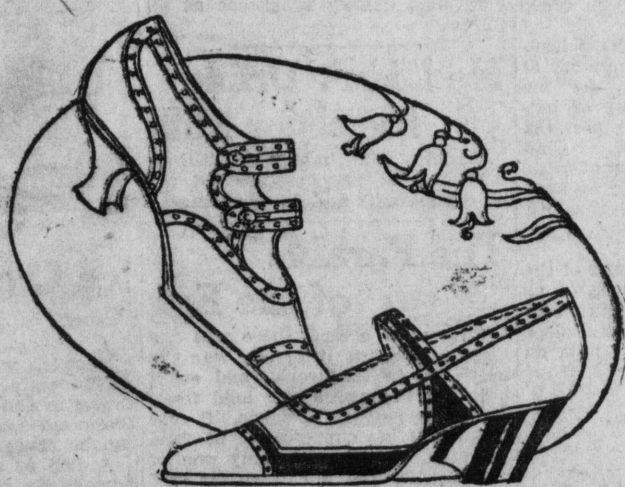

According to Wray, the supply will be visibly aided by the new well at Sixth and Garnsey streets which has just been put into operation. There are now two individual wells in addition to the main pumping plant on West First street and the smaller plant on Fourteenth street which give the city its water supply.

The greater volume, or 97 per cent, of the water consumed in the city is registered by meter, although two per cent is still on the flat rate known in the early days of the city's water system. The remaining one per cent is accounted for, by the water used in the city parks and hydrants, together with the street improvements, and the fire service, which is all gratuitous.

Consumer Pays For Waste
In regard to waste of water, Superintendent Wray pointed out that officially there is no waste as all

Expressions of Appreciation

The best pay anyone ever gets for conscientious, painstaking service is not the check given in settlement of the bill, but the sincere expression of appreciation of those to whom service has been rendered.

Such pay comes to us in abundance from the families to whom the MISSION FUNERAL HOME and its proprietors have rendered the most delicate and intimate service at the time of their greatest need of sympathetic, intelligent and skillful ministrations.

The expressions of appreciation of these families, supplemented as they frequently are by words of approval from those who merely have the opportunity of inspecting the MISSION FUNERAL HOME and observing its service are a source of great satisfaction to us. We are gratified in the assurance such expressions give us that the completeness and comfort of our establishment and the perfection of our service are such as will relieve as far as possible the burden of the time of bereavement, and we shall ever strive to merit such commendation.

MARTIN VS. MORAN IN GOTHAM BATTLE

A. E. F. Champ Has Tough Man On His Hands For Tonight

United Press Leased Wire
NEW YORK, July 12.—Bob Martin, the soldier champion goes against his second big test tonight when he meets Frank Moran the tough Pittsburgher, here in a fifteen-round bout.

The future of the A. E. F. title holder depends in a large part on what he is able to do with one of the hardest propositions in the ring. The doughboys who have always hoped that the boy who was developed in France would turn out to be a world's champion, were disappointed in his first big test last winter against Bill Brennan.

Martin lost a 12-round decision to the Chicago battler who had stayed twelve rounds with Jack Dempsey.

Jimmy Bronson, who ran the boxing shows in the A. E. F., and who discovered and developed Martin, says his protégé has learned a lot since he faced Brennan.

Moran isn't rated very high in the ring's who's who. However, he is one of the toughest fighters in the ring, with a wild right that usually puts them down when it gets over.

The Pittsburgher was regarded as a pass until he went to London and took a lot of color out of Georges Carpentier by knocking out Joe Beckett in just a little longer time than the Frenchman took.

After that performance London became quite enthusiastic after Moran, and clamored to see him against the Frenchman. According to the tale, Moran and his Mary Ann chased the light heavyweight champion back home to France.

WOLF AND TREMAINE FIGHT BITTER DRAW

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 12.—Judges were unable to agree on a verdict last night in the twelve-round decision go between Jack Wolfe and Carl Tremaine of Cleveland so they called it a draw. It was one of the most vicious contests ever staged in Cleveland.

Billy Deefe of St. Paul gave Johnny Rint of Cleveland a boxing lesson in a scheduled ten-round go which the boxing commission stopped in the seventh to prevent unnecessary punishment.

'DARK HORSE' GOES INTO FIRST PLACE IN BIG GOLF MEET

CHICAGO, July 12.—The dope of the Western Amateur Golf association was upset in the first day of play yesterday when E. B. Lloyd, Chicago, of whom little is known, went into temporary lead of the 188 players.

All day James S. Manion, St. Louis, and Rudy E. Knepper, Sioux City, were deadlocked at 73, par figures.

"Chick" Evans, defending his title, tried to dislodge them. Evans was a bit stale because of his long trip abroad and had trouble with the seventh hole. Lloyd, at duck, stepped up and set a record for the West-moeland club course with 35-36-71.

The final 18 holes of the qualifying round and the Olympic cup competition will be played today.

SUSPECT IN BUNCO 'JOB' TO BE TRIED

Long Beach jewelry store, told of an attempt on the part of the defendant to cash the draft at his store. Merithew said that he knew "Wigal," the defendant as "Fields."

According to Merithew, Wigal, or "Fields," came to his store and asked to see a watch similar to one that he had bought at the place some time previous and which he claimed he had lost.

After making a selection from a stock of watches "Fields," according to Merithew, presented the draft for $527.30 and asked that he cash it, retaining the purchase price of the watch. Merithew asked Fields to excuse him for a moment while he called up the Yorda Linda bank and inquired about the draft. Fields then left the store stating that he would return for the watch and cash in a few minutes.

While Fields was out Merithew called the Yorda Linda bank and the assistant cashier of a bank at Long Beach. He was told that the draft probably was "phony" and was requested to hold the man who presented it.

Instead of returning to the jewelry store "Fields" sent a Western Union messenger boy after the watch and the cash.

The boy went to the store and presented Merithew a note stating that "Fields" was unavoidably detained. A detective had been summoned to the store before the messenger arrived. He sought to learn of Fields' whereabouts from the messenger and the boy told the detective that he had been instructed not to tell.

The boy then was permitted to depart with the money and watch, which had been put into an envelope, it being understood that he was to deliver it to Fields.

After following the boy for several blocks over a zig-zag course the detective saw him approach "Fields." The officer placed the latter under arrest and took the money and watch.

Both the officer and messenger were called as witnesses at the preliminary and identified Wigal as the man who gave the name of Fields.

According to the officials of the bank, all of the alleged old prospectors were very keen and could easily be taken for business men of high standing.

Dr. Keller recalled some time after the alleged swindle that Franklin, one of the quartette, had a most peculiar complexion. It did not look natural, according to Keller.

Franklin is the man whom the authorities believe is among the cleverest bunco artists on the coast.

Have You Heard About Vitamines? They are Life Forces

Scientists have found that our bodies need certain food elements to keep them fit.

Most of us are familiar with the proteins, carbohydrates, fats and mineral salts that make up our daily diet.

However, it has recently been found that there is another element needed for a well balanced food regimen.

This element is the VITAMINE, and as yet little is known about it, except that it is one of the vital life forces we must have in order to keep healthy.

Butter and butter fats have been found to contain a large number of vitamins. Consequently, the importance of placing plenty of butter and milk on the daily diet list cannot be over-estimated. Children especially need plenty of foods rich in butter fat, as it has been proven that vitamins are absolutely indispensable in the diet of the growing child.

Such being the importance of the Vitamine, it behooves those of us who value our health and that of our families to be sure to include a large order for butter and milk on the daily grocery list.

Fresh Butter

In order to be at its best, butter should always be fresh. Whether used for cooking purposes or as a spread for bread, its fine flavor can be appreciated much more when it has come fresh from the dairy.

Orange County Butter is made fresh daily and is delivered all over the county. Just call up the Excelsior Creamery, 227 in Santa Ana, 246 in Fullerton, or 117 in Anaheim, and tell them to send you a pound of butter. You'll appreciate the difference.

Summer Salads

In the summer time one of the mainstays of the menu is a cooling salad. Many people do not realize the number of delightful summer salads that can be made with cottage cheese.

For a plain and very easily prepared salad, a mound of cottage cheese in a nest of lettuce leaves, garnished with a salad of green pepper makes a very attractive dish.

Cottage cheese mixed with pimiento is delicious, and is very pretty if served on lettuce with strips of the pimiento laid across.

A slice of pineapple laid on a lettuce leaf, with a spoonful of cottage cheese and perhaps a bit of mayonnaise dressing added, makes a nice sweet salad.

Cottage cheese which has been mixed with thousand Island Dressing is delicious when served on lettuce with crisp salad crackers.

A rather unusual sweet salad may be made by chopping fresh cherries and mixing them through cottage cheese, placing a mound of the mixture on a lettuce leaf and garnishing with one perfect cherry in the center of the mound.

When you make these attractive salads, be sure to order your cottage cheese from the Excelsior Creamery, for we make it fresh daily, and you are assured of the very best quality of cheese at all times.

He Didn't Drink Excelsior Milk

Senior: "What makes you little?"

The Parable of the Egg

Once upon a time there was one little egg. This little egg was the only one in the world, and so it became very proud and held itself above the rest of the foods. It said to man, but there is only one of me, so man is afraid to eat me up.

But one day old Mother Nature heard the little egg boasting and she decided that she would cure it of such a selfish way of living. So she came up to the little egg where it was keeping itself haughtily apart, and said: "Little egg, you should not boast, for you are no better than the rest of the things I made for man to eat. Hereafter, there shall be enough of you so that every egg for breakfast is at least one egg for breakfast every morning.

But that this may be only necessary that you hatch out a chicken, who in turn will hatch more eggs 'till there are enough in the world."

So that is how the first little egg was punished for boasting, and that is why you can have eggs for your breakfast.

Don't forget to get YOUR breakfast eggs at the Excelsior Creamery, where they are fresh every day.

USE WIRELESS FOR FLOOD WARNINGS

DENVER, July 12.—Plans to prevent the cutting off of any community from communication with the outside world by floods or similar disasters are being worked out by H. H. Buckwalter, of Denver, a wireless telegraph expert. According to Buckwalter, the plan is to be put in state-wide operation and will consist of several members in every community in the state organizing to communicate with adjoining communities by any possible means.

In a recent series of tests, a party went out about twenty miles from Denver with a small crystal receiving set. They carried a short piece of wire which was shot over a tree by means of a bow and arrow, and received wireless messages from Denver. They replied with an automobile spotlight equipped with a sending key, and the messages were received by Buckwalter in Denver. Additional tests along such lines will be conducted, according to Mr. Buckwalter.

Things Worth Knowing About Orange County

Lemon Heights, a fertile and frostless citrus district, lies in the northeasterly portion of Tustin, east of the Newport road, and extends for a distance of two miles along the southern slope of the foothills. Its elevation above the floor of the valley gives it perfect freedom from killing frosts, which constitutes a most valuable asset in citrus culture. There has never been known a temperature sufficiently low to injure citrus fruits at Lemon Heights.

A system of drives affords the tourist and sightseer easy access to a panoramic view of mountain and valley and sea and sky which for loveliness and majesty can scarcely be surpassed. From the upper reaches of Lemon Heights one has the world at his feet. Before him lies a smiling and fertile valley; at his back rise the snow-capped mountains of the Sierra Madre range, with "Old Baldy" heading the procession. To the southwest stretch forty miles of ocean with Catalina lifting its purple heights out of the sparkling waters of the blue Pacific. To the west rolls off toward the sea the great Santa Ana valley, reaching away to Los Angeles.

And Lemon Heights, because of its freedom from frost, has established itself as one of the few reliable places in North America to grow successfully the avocado, a comparatively new fruit to dwellers in the temperate zones. Experimental plantings of avocados began in California some thirty years ago. Ten years ago these isolated single trees began to attract attention to the commercial possibilities of the fruit for Southern California.

The avocado can be grown in abundance in favored locations and interest in the fruit is growing steadily and in consequence the industry is expanding. By planting three or four of the proper varieties, fruit may be harvested every day in the year and thus, Lemon Heights being in the frostless belt of California, it is one of the most favorable—if not the most favorable—places to prosecute avocado culture.

At the present time shipments are being made to the eastern markets, although most of the crop is marketed in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

LOST BUT UNCALLED FOR

When you lose an article on the car or train, do you just take it for granted that the whole world is dishonest and make no effort to retrieve your property, or do you make inquiry? Sometimes the latter course pays. There are quite a few honest persons in the world.

The superintendent of the Long Island railway was discussing the subject. "It is hardly believable," said he, "how relatively small a percentage of patrons try to get back articles they leave in our waiting rooms and on trains." He said that over 7,000 articles were left on his lines last year, and only a few over 2,000 were claimed by the owners.

Yet this company, like most organizations, has a regular course of procedure for handling goods left with it by mistake. Its employees are instructed to turn in all such articles to the proper authorities. They in turn hold them for 90 days as prescribed by law. After that period, if the owner has not appeared, the finder has the privilege of claiming the stuff. If he fails, in his turn, the company finally sells the things at well advertised public auctions.

The average list of lost articles covers a motley range of varying value and character, yet the chances are fair for the recovery of any one. It is foolish for the losers to be either so distrustful or so heedless.

This argument, made in relation to articles lost in depots or on trains, applies with equal strength to articles lost elsewhere. The avenue of discovery in most cases of lost articles lies in the classified columns of the local paper.

The secret of youth is to eat only so much as the mechanics of the body can take care of with ease. Gluttony clogs the entire machinery with poisonous products of half digested foods, increases the blood pressure and hastens old age. The reason why many elderly men cannot think as clearly as they did when younger is because they overeat, and the blood that should nourish the brain is appropriated by the stomach. Old age, as we usually see it, is the accepted torpor that follows a too happy meal. Moderation in eating will keep any one young.—Dr. Orison Sweet Marden.

SECRETARY MELLON'S WORD

Secretary Mellon, in stating his objections to the proposed soldier bonus legislation, merely said what all well-informed senators and representatives know but what few of them have had the courage to admit.

As guardian of the United States treasury, and the man who will face the task of finding the wherewithal to take care of the bonus if it is voted, and of the financial confusion resulting therefrom, Secretary Mellon has a recognized right to speak, and should know what he is speaking about. He says, in his warning to congress and the public regarding the financial consequences of the pending bill:

"His direct consequences are inescapable. It would involve grave dangers of renewed inflation, increased commodity prices and unsettled business conditions.

"The result would be serious injury and loss to the whole community, and in the long run even the veterans themselves would lose far more than they would gain. I cannot bring myself to believe that this would be adjusted compensation for a service that was performed as the highest duty of citizenship and a sacrifice that can never be measured in terms of money."

This has been said many times before, by many people, but seldom so impressively. Congress may well "esitate, at least as far as the cash part of the bonus measure is concerned. As for the public, this is the time for it to express its real conviction on the subject, if it has any.

It took an American airplane bombing squadron only 16 minutes to sink one of those captured German submarines, lying at anchor. Which is all very satisfactory, on the theory that a live submarine would wait 16 minutes to be sunk.

A FOREIGN PROBLEM

The American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic had a parade in New York City on the Fourth. It was a dignified and impressive demonstration, though a futile one.

The United States government is not going to recognize the Irish Republic as long as there is any hope of Ireland and England settling the affair themselves. Neither is the United States government going to recognize the Irish Republic as long as relations between the United States and Great Britain remain friendly. Most Americans recognize the supreme value of the two great English-speaking nations working together to straighten out the affairs of the world and perpetuate the highest ideals of civilization, and know that American interference in an internal problem of the British Empire would mar the hopeful prospect.

There might have been a still larger number of volunteers for a procession protesting against the intrusion of the Irish question into American politics and asking our Irish and English friends on the other side to solve their own problem. For every dispassionate American even though he sympathizes strongly with Ireland's past wrongs, recognizes that this is not properly an American problem at all.

There are two sets of propaganda being carried on in this country, both embarrassing and mischievous. One is anti-Irish, and the other is anti-English. They make a battleground of a purely foreign quarrel, and turn Americans against two people with both of whom the majority of Americans want to be friends.

What America as a whole wants of the disputants is precisely what they now show a disposition to do—get together and effect a compromise that will give Ireland the largest possible measure of freedom. A real settlement in London on a liberal basis would be something that every 100 per cent American could cheer with heartiness and sincerity.

At last report, that party climbing Mount Everest was only 40 miles from the top. Unfortunately the last 40 miles is the hardest.

RELEASE HIDDEN WEALTH

The old sock, the battered trunk and the mattress are still the depositories for large sums of money which should be in circulation, bringing fair interest to their owners and helping to ease the financial stringency.

Postmaster Hays is the latest authority to note this unproductive and unsafe hoarding of private capital. He thinks there are somewhere near a billion dollars thus stored away by foreigners and others unfamiliar with modern savings institutions. He believes reform of the postal savings service would help to clear the situation.

A better rate of interest on postal deposits, withdrawal of the restrictions against depositors under 10 years of age, the provision for joint and trust funds, increasing the number of offices where deposits may be handled, a better arrangement for compensation of postmasters handling savings deposits and better operation generally form the framework of his proposal.

Thus far the postal savings service has never been operated along lines which developed anything like its full possibilities.

Lots of Room in California

San Francisco Chronicle

Jonathan S. Dodge, the new State Superintendent of Banking, does not appear to be a radical prophet when he says the present generation will see a population of 10,000,000 in California. If we apply the progressive rate of increase of the last two decades to the next forty years it shows a population of just under 10,000,000 in 1960.

As a matter of fact, it is just as likely that the ratio of increase will go higher and not impossible that we may have 10,000,000 Californians by 1950. And, after all, it may outrun any of our present calculations and give us such a population much sooner. The point is that California can care for 10,000,000 inhabitants, and do it well. No one, we think, will argue that the state is more than thinly settled with the 2,500,000 we have now. One has but to look around California only casually to see that her highly developed portions, great as they may be, are relatively small beside those awaiting development. And the opportunities in California, instead of growing less, grow greater and greater with each decade.

A comparison of California and Italy may be instructive. Italy, before the war, had a total area including all her islands just a trifle more than two-thirds that of California, and supported on it a population of more than 35,000,000. It will be objected that Italy is overcrowded and cannot support that population, even on its low scale of living, without exporting labor. There will be a further objection that Italy is Italy, more highly developed industrially than California.

Very well, we will yield to the first by not calling for a population of 35,000,000 even in the greater area of California. While we think that California, which has every natural resource of consequence possessed by Italy, and several times as many more, could support the Italian population much better than she can, we would not want to do it by lowering our standards of living. We will be cautious and limit ourselves to say, 15,000,000. And that is a reasonable basis for a comparison with Italy.

We find it reasonable in spite of the second objection, because by the time California has 15,000,000 inhabitants, undoubtedly much sooner, her opportunities industrially will be greater than those of Italy. Italy, which has only been waiting for surrounding population to develop a market, is already developing fast in California. Italy has no coal or other natural fuel; we have oil and gas and at least as much water-power available.

Agriculturally California is immensely better off than Italy. Both countries have mountainous and arid areas, which we may leave to balance each other. But California's arable soil is rich, while that of Italy is worn out, and over large areas ruined by the wash from her totally deforested mountains. In other directions California is incomparably richer in the vast variety of her natural resources in minerals, metals and timbers.

As a tourist country California has this great advantage over Italy, that her visitors decide to stay. In the United States we draw upon a region of so much greater average wealth than that of Europe that we attract, and will continue to attract, great numbers of families who come only to make their homes. As an ideal place to live California will always have a large proportion of inhabitants who are here without respect to the capacity of the state to support. They bring their support.

If Italy can manage her 35,000,000 on her scale of living, larger and richer California ought to keep 15,000,000 on ours.

Sacramento's City Manager

Sacramento Bee

Sacramento's new city government begins its duties with the best wishes of all good citizens. It is a radical change from the commission form of which very much was expected when it assumed control but which proved more or less of a disappointment due to personnel, although an improvement on the original style, with its mayor and board of trustees.

The most important feature of the new order of things is the placing executive responsibility in the hands of a city manager, confining the duties of the city council almost entirely to those of a legislative nature, aside from its limited powers of appointment. Sacramento is among the large and important cities in the United States to adopt the city manager plan of local government, and her experience in this regard will be watched with interest by all parts of the country.

This community is now entering upon a new era of progress and development as well as of government, a fact which adds importance to the change that has just occurred.

BETWEEN THE LINES

The best of us all is that which remains unwritten in our lives—between the lines.

There are those, however, who are able to read this unpenned nobility and to take it into their own lives to become an inspiration there.

To understand is much more wonderful than to read or see. Human expression at its highest is a withering affair. And so is human action. Thought is deeper and greater than either—for it inspires both. But that which always remains between the lines—refusing to be written or expressed—shall continue as the source of our best that is written or expressed.

Pilate, the Roman Governor, confused and convicted in his heart, asks: "What is Truth?" But Jesus, brought before him, preceding His walk to the Cross, answered the question fully—between the lines—by "answering not a word!"

Between the lines of history, as John Brown climbed the scaffold Freedom wept.

And on the monuments of those throughout the world who gave their "last full measure of devotion" that Liberty might not die, the Angels of Light read these words: "War must be no more."

Every day you live you will have to pick your way through mistakes and misunderstandings. The small boy or girl in you will always show scars. But every time your heart smiles, these scars will fade in prominence. And you will be the only one who will know that they are there. Unless they be "suspicioned" by those who are able to read between the lines.

Character must be judged chiefly by that which remains between the lines—unwritten.

Most of the hurts which hit the heart, come about from those who, in their thoughtlessness, forget to read between the lines—and, therefore, misunderstand and bring sadness instead of gladness.

Between the notes of the bird songs, rising above the green of the grass, and floating ever about the atmosphere of the many colored flowers, breathing their exquisite perfumes, a great touch of Heaven hovers!

The Velvet Hammer

By A. B. B.

CLYDE BISHOP

Clyde used to be the lawyer who pursued his fame and fees by paying the defendant's way to liberty and ease, or if his service was engaged to prosecute the crime, he laid his plan to send the man where he would do his time. His efforts with the jury were effective as the deuce, and many who were badly tied he helped to wiggle loose.

But Bishop found that people with the biggest rolls of kale are seldom classed as criminals and boarded at the jail. They have their rights in civil courts, to which he turns his time and lets the other lawyers get the grist of sin and crime. The client with a lawyer as reliable as Clyde is often due to find himself upon the winning side.

He's called in consultation on municipal affairs. In solving civic problems he professionally shares. When people meet on July Fourth or other holiday, they listen fascinated to the things he has to say, for Bishop is an orator who makes the masses cheer. To hear him speak an hour or week is easy on the ear.

BURSA

I have a lump in the palm of my hand, and some one has told me it is a bursa. Will you please tell me what a bursa is?

A bursa is a little sac containing a drop or two of fluid, and located in various parts of the body, usually in connection with tendons, or over some bone lying close to the surface. In other words, a bursa is a normal structure. Their existence is usually unnoticed by the laity until, as a result of irritation, they become inflamed, and there is an increase in the amount of fluid. In scrub women, for example, the bursa situated in front of the knee cap may become inflamed, giving rise to the condition known as "housemaid's knee." Another bursa which often becomes irritated and inflamed is located at the tip of the elbow. The bursa on the back of the wrist often becomes inflamed. I have never seen an inflamed bursa in the palm of the hand, and accordingly, repeat the advice I have given you in a previous letter to consult a qualified physician and let him look into the matter.

"LUMBAGO"

Please send information concerning relieving or curing of stubborn case of lumbago. Pain is located in shoulder and in base of neck.

In ordinary lumbago the pain comes and goes, and it is usually not a difficult matter to control an individual attack. The old-fashioned home remedy known as "ironing out the back" is often of considerable service. The patient lies in bed, face down, and his back is ironed through several thicknesses of flannel cloth, or through a Sunday newspaper, with a hot iron. The combination of heat and rubbing usually affords considerable relief.

From your brief description, however, I question whether the condition is really lumbago. It may be some more serious trouble in the spine or in the structures in the chest or abdomen.

I would, therefore, urge you to discuss the matter with your family physician, and, perhaps, have him refer you to some qualified orthopedic specialist for further examination and advice. A "lumbago" in which the pain persists is apt to be something else.

CLOTHING FOR BABY

What articles of clothing should a baby born in July wear?

A baby born in July in any locality where the summers are warm does not require the very long clothes formerly used. In fact, many people do not favor these at all now. I should advise you to provide the pinning blanket, however, because of sudden changes in the weather and cool, damp spells. The necessary things for the baby are: 3 soft flannel bands, 3 night gowns of outing flannel, 6 white shirts, 3 pairs, size 2, cotton, or cotton and wool, 3 knit diapers, coat and hood, in one, baby blanket.

DECLARES BRICKYARD ON

HICKEY SHOULD BE MOVED.

Editor Register.—We hear many suggestions for making Santa Ana beautiful and of making our home town second to no other, but it seems to me and to many people of the northwest part of our city there is something that detracts very much from the beauty and health of Santa Ana.

I refer to the brickyards situated on Hickey street just a short way from the heart of the city. This unsightly place prevents the growth of the city to the northwest. There are many vacant lots that would quickly sell and all property rapidly increase in value were it not for this condition. People have bought in this locality after being told that the brickyards were about ready to move, were making their last brick, etc. One property owner was told nine years ago that the business was going to move at once, but it is still here.

The brickyard is a menace to the comfort and health of citizens for blocks around.

When the brick is burning the poison smoke has to be breathed day and night for nearly two weeks at a time. When the atmospheric conditions are at all heavy it is almost suffocating.

It is extremely bad for any who have weak lungs or throats, especially for children. Add to the smoke the volumes of dust caused by the trains to and from the yards over an unpaved street and the condition is deplorable.

If a cleaning establishment on one of the streets of Santa Ana was compelled to move because it was a menace it certainly seems that the brickyard is also a menace and a nuisance, and as such should be required to move.

It does not seem that this business should be allowed to cheapen the homes and property of many worthy people.

Aside from the smoke, there is a constant noise which is very trying to the nerves. People complain on streets quite distant that many nights it disturbs their sleep, and where there is sickness one can see how nerve-racking it would be. Even when well such a noise night and day is very annoying to most people.

It certainly is plain that 1921 is as good a year for the brickyards to move as nine or nineteen years from now will be.

A READER.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

CHAPTER 85

BILLY BEAR GETS HIS FOOT IN IT.

By HARVEY ELLIOTT

It was after dark when Billy Bear got home from his visit to Prairie-dog Town. Peter Rabbit thought he couldn't wait any longer, so asked Father Bear to give his thanks to Billy and he started off to hunt some supper. Mother Bear invited him to stay for supper with them, but Peter hadn't forgotten the time when they tried to feed him on fish.

Billy Bear had another experience before he got home, which I must tell you about. That was the reason why he hadn't gotten home any sooner. The thing that happened to him made it so he had to walk very slowly.

Billy had to cross the creek on his way home. The water wasn't very deep so he found a place where he could wade across. As he was stepping out of the water he saw a tin can floating down the stream. He waited till it came beside him then reached out and pushed it up on the bank.

Billy Bear stuck his nose in the can and sniffed something that smelled good. He carried the can up on the grass and sat down under a tree. He smelled that can again. Yes, sir, it smelled good, that's all there was about it. Then Billy stuck out his tongue and gave a little lick on the inside. "Yum, yum," said Billy, as he smacked his lips, "it's good!"

Now this happened to be an empty salmon can, which Farmer Smith's wife had thrown out into the ditch in the back yard. A heavy rain the next night carried the can down to the main creek where it was found by Billy Bear.

Billy had never tasted canned salmon, but he had tasted fish, and that was a good deal the same. You would have laughed if you could have seen Billy sitting there with his back against the tree licking that can. There wasn't much in it, but, Oh! my! what WAS in it tasted fine.

After Billy Bear had gotten the inside of the can polished as far down as his tongue would reach, he held it up, shut one eye, and looked in to see if he could see any more. Yes, sir, there was a little bit right down in the bottom that he couldn't reach.

Now how could Billy Bear get the rest of that salmon? That was the question. His tongue was too short, and his hand was too big. But Billy tried his hand. It was going to be awful tight, but he decided to see if he couldn't squeeze it in. He finally did get it in far enough for his finger nails to reach the salmon on the bottom of the can.

Then, Oh, my! That hand of Billy's fit so tight that he could not get it out. He worked and worked, but, no, sir, it was stuck tight. He finally gave it up. He wasn't worrying so much about the can on his foot as he was about not getting the rest of that salmon in the bottom of the can.

Well, there was only one thing left to do and that was to go on home and call all. That is why Billy Bear didn't get home in time to receive Peter Rabbit's thanks.

But I have known some people to "get their foot in it" a good deal worse than did Billy Bear.
